Quarantine Is Urged on Cuba

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "The Castro Communist Soviet regime in Cuba must be quarantined," says former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

He likened it at a news conference Tuesday to a cancer threatening to spread through the Western Hemisphere.

Pledges JFK Support

"I, speaking as a leader of my party, pledge my unqualified support to whatever action President Kennedy decides is necessary," Nixon said.

Nixon said he would support a naval blockade of Cuba if Kennedy decided one is necessary.

Nixon, campaigning as the Republican gubernatorial nominee, said there is a risk of war in taking action to halt the flow of Soviet men and machines to Cuba.

But, he said, the "risks of inaction are far greater—we can't wait for the dust to settle in Cuba."

Stronger Action Needed

"I believe the time has come for stronger action in Cuba," Nixon said.

"There are 5,000 Soviet troops in Cuba. Whether they wear civilian clothes or sports shirts or Soviet army uniforms, they are still troops.

"I do not think you can brush this off because they are armed with defensive rather than offensive arms. A gun can be offensive as well as defensive.

"The greater danger is not to the United States and our security but to surrounding countries in the Western Hemisphere."

Arguments of war danger were heard, Nixon said, during the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration when this nation backed up Nationalist China when Red China threatened Quemoy and Matsu, and when it landed Marines in Lebanon.

Likening these situations to Cuba, he said: "I believe war will not come if strong action is taken."

Careful Go-Ahead Given on Britain Entry of Market

LONDON (AP)—Commonwealth leaders today gave Prime Minister Harold Macmillan a carefully-hedged go-ahead to continue his efforts to lead Britain into the European Common Market.

But the Commonwealth statesmen took the action on the firm understanding that Britain will take account of Commonwealth fears and seek a better deal for Britain's Commonwealth partners when negotiations with the six Common Market countries are resumed in two weeks.

Reservations Noted

A communique, issued after an unhappy 10-days of wrangling, catalogued various reservations expressed by the Commonwealth leaders.

The communique said the Commonwealth prime ministers trusted that a closer association between Britain and Europe "would not be allowed, as it developed, to weaken the cohesion of the Commonwealth or its influence for peace and progress in the world."

The lengthy document was issued at the end of summit talks between 16 countries of Britain's worldwide alliance.

Long Dispute

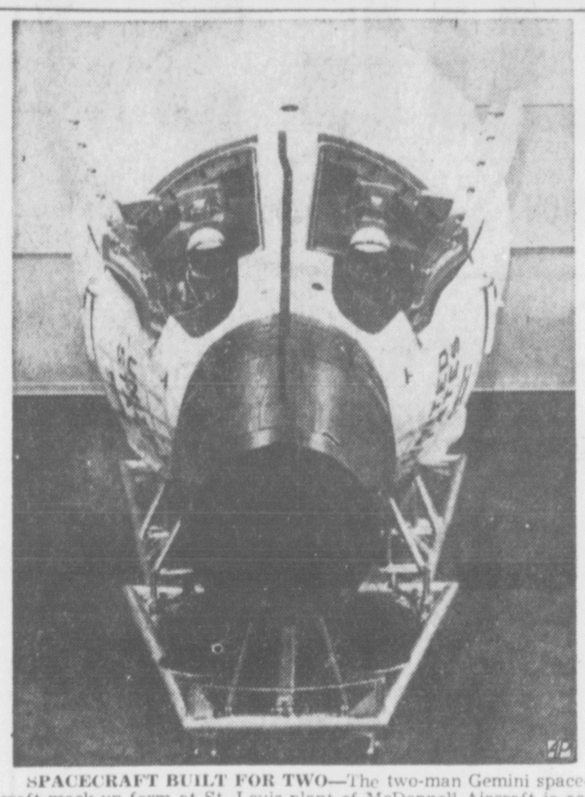

It was preceded by a marathon dispute over Britain's proposal to link up with Europe. Almost every one of Britain's partners expressed fears and anxieties that the project would hurt their old-

Constitution Week Proclaimed Here

By act of Congress and Presidential proclamation, September 17 to 23 is Constitution Week. All United States citizens are urged during this week to become conversant with the acts and events leading to the formulation and adoption of the Constitution, to re-read it and to renew their pledge to serve their country and to stand ever ready to preserve, protect and defend this great document.

Mayor John J. Schwenk has issued a proclamation giving official recognition locally in conjunction with Mrs. William Ochs, Daughters of the American Revolution Chairman of Constitution Week and past regent of Wiltwyck Chapter.

Burglary Suspect Is In Mental Hospital

A local young man, under bail for an alleged assault in July on a local patrolman, and who faced questioning as a burglary suspect, was taken to Middletown State Hospital early today, after a report that he "went berserk" at Kingston Hospital as he was to be treated for a badly lacerated ankle.

John Manfro, 22, of 3 Cedar Street, was picked up on Broadway below the City Hall by police, who had been on patrol after an anonymous report that "someone was entering" Herzog's Paint and Hardware Store, 332 Wall Street. Officers Lewis Keator and Wilmot Hall, who spotted Manfro on Broadway, noticed that he bled profusely from a cut on the right ankle and he was taken to the hospital.

Continue Probe

Detectives continued investigation today of the burglary at Herzog's, and of others at the stationery store of E. Winter's Sons, 326 Wall Street, at Mickey's Beauty Parlor and Barber Shop, 50 North Front Street, and at the Dederick Street store of Shults Paint Co., Inc. Reports indicated no heavy losses at any of the stores.

Herzog's and Winter's stores, police said, were entered through the breaking of doors on the Fair Street side. Officers said they trailed blood from Herzog's some distance down Fair Street, and a report to headquarters at 1:23 a. m. noted a complaint from the manager at the Kingston-Stuyvesant Hotel that someone had apparently entered the cellar and door were left open.

Leaves Blood Trail

Police said blood was found near broken door glass at the Herzog store, and spots were noted along Fair Street and at the hotel.

Manfro, who police said, was apprehended early July 19 in the high grass of a vacant lot off Meadow and Ann Streets, is charged with having assaulted Officer Frank Stip at that time. Police said he became violent when placed a jail cell, ripping loose a toilet seat and breaking it on the floor.

It is alleged that the assault took place while police were on patrol of a dowwntown area after a reported attempt to steal the car of John Fleming, of 127 Chambers Street. Manfro had previously escaped conviction after his capture in the area of

Senate Vote Due By Nightfall on Trade Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate votes today on the historic trade bill which would give President Kennedy authority to rip down or lower tariff walls and build an economic partnership with the European Common Market.

Passage seemed certain. The House has approved it.

In Late Session

Administration forces, after a shaky start, were in full command on the field as the Senate stayed past midnight to beat down amendment after amendment offered mostly by Republicans.

The Senate completed action on all but one of the proposed floor changes in Tuesday's marathon session.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana put off passage until afternoon because of the late hour and because several members said they wanted to speak before the final roll call.

Tuesday's votes—preserving all of the sweeping tariff-cutting and trade adjustment powers Kennedy requested—apparently assured the President of one of the biggest triumphs of the 87th Congress.

In proposing his trade program as "a bold new instrument of American trade policy," Kennedy said: "Our decision could well affect the unity of the West, the course of the cold war and the growth of our nation for a generation or more to come."

After accomplishing nothing in the first day of debate Monday, the Senate got down to business so earnestly Tuesday that it was able to act on 19 amendments. But it took the longest session of

Kennedy-Lodge Feud Back, Ted Winner by Landslide

BOSTON (AP) — It's another Kennedy-Lodge election battle for Massachusetts—the fourth round in a long line of bouts for high political office.

The Democrats nominated Edward M. Kennedy, youngest brother of President John F. Kennedy, for the U.S. Senate by a landslide in Tuesday's primary.

The Republicans picked George Cabot Lodge, son of Henry Cabot Lodge, former U.N. ambassador who once held the Senate seat at stake in November.

The nominees are both young men. Kennedy turned 30, minimum age for a senator, last Feb. 22. Lodge is 35.

Though both have been campaigning on a day and night schedule since their victories in the party conventions last June, they planned an early start today in the election contest.

Kennedy ran better than 2-1 in the voting across the state over his rival, State Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass.

Lodge was in a closer battle for the GOP nomination with Rep. Laurence Curtis. The lead seesawed back and forth.

Shortly before 2:30 a.m. Lodge made his victory speech at his election headquarters.

Curtis' concession came later, with a congratulatory message and a promise of support in the election campaign.

Returns from 1621 precincts of the state's 1988 gave Kennedy 433,023 and McCormack 190,614.

On the Republican side, the tally of 1616 precincts gave Lodge 186,957 and Curtis 148,793.

The Democrats nominated a Yankee blueblood, Endicott (Chub) Peabody to head their state ticket as the candidate for governor. Peabody defeated Clement A. Riley, state auto registrar. Peabody will run against incumbent Republican Gov. John A. Volpe, a son of Italian immigrant parents, who was renominated for a second term without opposition.

The Republicans placed a Negro on their ticket, nominating Edward W. Brooke for attorney general. Brooke was the first Negro on a statewide ticket in Massachusetts two years ago when he ran unsuccessfully for secretary of state.

Congress Readies Troop Decree to Meet Threats

Will Acclaim Rocky For 'Fight of Life' At Buffalo Tonight

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Republicans renominate Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today to lead a GOP fight against a Democratic ticket that his opponent promised would give the governor "the fight of his life."

Rockefeller will be acclaimed tonight a candidate for re-election in November during the final session of a harmonious two-day state convention here.

The Democratic convention, at times a tumultuous and chaotic meeting, ended quietly in Syracuse Tuesday night after the selection of prisoner-swap lawyer James B. Donovan to run for the U.S. Senate on a ticket headed by Robert M. Morgenthau, the gubernatorial nominee.

In Cuban Case

Donovan, 46, has been negotiating with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro for the release of invasion prisoners. He also played a key role in the exchange of Soviet spy Rudolph Abel for U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

Donovan will challenge Sen. Jacob K. Javits, New York's senior senator, who won renomination by acclamation from Republicans Tuesday night.

Javits, seeking a second term, was the only candidate named at the first day's sessions. Rockefeller's other running mates were lined up for nomination today.

Another Democrat selected Tuesday night is a Negro—the first of his race to be chosen by either major party to run for a statewide office in New York.

He is Edward Dudley, 53, borough president of Manhattan and former U.S. ambassador to Liberia, named to run for attorney general against the Republican incumbent, Louis J. Lefkowitz, a Jew.

Filling out the Democratic ticket are Mayor John J. Burns, 41, of Binghamton, candidate for lieutenant governor; Comptroller Arthur Levitt, 61, of Brooklyn, the only member of his party elected to a statewide administrative office in the Rockefeller landslide four years ago, nominated for re-election, and John Scileppi, 54, of Queens, a State Supreme Court justice, to run for associate judge of the Court of Appeals.

Besides Rockefeller, Javits, and Lefkowitz, Republicans will run Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson for re-election.

They also are expected to nominate John P. Lomenzo, 47, of Rochester, former Monroe County judge, for comptroller, and Marcus Christ, 62, of New Hyde Park, for the court post. Christ is a justice in the State Supreme Court's appellate division.

Javits Gets Full Party Support at GOP Convention

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Jacob Javits launched his reelection drive today, seeking to affirm his orthodox Republicanism in the face of critics who have assailed him as a super-renegade.

In accepting the party's renomination Tuesday night, Javits identified himself with such Republican stalwarts as the late Robert A. Taft, whose name once stood for GOP conservatism.

Javits' remarks and those of other convention speakers reflected the seriousness with which state Republicans view the threat of the new Conservative Party. Javits and Republican Gov. Rockefeller are the chief targets of the Conservatives who have fielded a ticket to oppose the two GOP standard bearers.

The GOP fears the new party,

Gives Up Peacefully In Orange Gun Spree

FORT MONTGOMERY, N. Y. A young Korean War veteran, wounded in battle and apparently under a temporary delusion that he was still in the thick of it, went on a shooting spree Tuesday night in an attic bedroom equipped like an arsenal. No one was wounded, and early today he gave up peacefully.

Seven state troopers, among about 40 officers who surrounded the house, climbed cautiously to the upstairs bedroom and found William Avery Jr., 30, standing in a daze next to a wall. He was unarmed and unhurt, but a battery of small-caliber weapons surrounded him.

Avery's father accompanied the troopers to the room.

State Police Investigator Joe Colligan, one of the seven troopers, said young Avery offered no resistance.

"He was just standing there and we handcuffed him," Colligan said.

A physician was called and accompanied Avery to the Newburgh State Police barracks. The young ex-soldier was described as being in a state of shock.

But Colligan said Avery talked rationally at the station and realized he no longer was fighting in Korea.

Earlier, however, he had let go with such a barrage of rifle and automatic weapons fire from his attic window, and inside the attic itself, that this small Orange

Bridge Section Expected Today For Esopus Creek

A first truckload of sections of a temporary bridge to be placed on the site of the collapsed Esopus Creek span was expected to arrive here this afternoon from Prattsville as the Citizens Temporary Bridge Committee continued pressing for action to gain a bridge to accommodate vehicular and pedestrian travel instead of just a foot span.

Robert Teetsel, chairman of the committee, indicated early this afternoon that every move possible was under way to gain assurance that a vehicular span is to be built over the creek.

Teetsel again said he had received assurance from Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson that he favors a temporary vehicular bridge.

Single Aim Over Cuba Is Sought

Both Houses Due To Vote Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committee unanimously approved today a resolution declaring the United States will use troops if necessary to resist Communist aggression in this hemisphere.

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Congressional leaders of both parties finish work today on a resolution declaring the United States will use troops if it must to resist Communist aggression in this hemisphere.

Three committees meet to polish the language of the resolution and have it ready for passage Thursday by the Senate and House.

Also Carries Warning

Aim of the declaration is to express a common Cuban policy that both Congress and President Kennedy can accept.

It will also, congressional leaders believe, carry a warning to Moscow and Havana that the nation is behind the President in any action he feels must be taken in reply to the Communist military buildup in Cuba.

In its present form, the resolution pretty much echoes Kennedy's press statement on Cuba last Thursday.

To get the resolution into final form, the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committee scheduled a joint meeting. On the other side of the Capitol, the House Foreign Affairs Committee will get together.

Determination Urged

The committees will consider a working draft of a joint resolution asserting the United States is determined to prevent "by whatever means may be necessary, including the use of arms, the Marxist-Leninist regime in Cuba from extending its aggression to any part of this hemisphere by force or the threat of force."

Sens. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, John Sparkman, D-Ala., acting chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., ranking GOP member of the former group, developed the proposed language Tuesday in conferences with the House committee and the White House.

The resolution also would voice U.S. determination:

"To prevent in Cuba the creation or use of an externally supported offensive military base capable of endangering the United States naval base at Guantanamo, free passage to the Panama Canal, United States missile and space preparations or the security of this nation and its citizens."

Reds Hold Up Convoy

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet guards held up a U.S. convoy on the highway from West Germany for more than three hours today because of what a U.S. Army spokesman called a misunderstanding of procedures.

The convoy was finally allowed to start the 110-mile aourney across Communist East Germany. The 193 officers and men of the convoy were in 26 vehicles.

The Army spokesman said he could not give any more details of the reason for the delay.

Valley 1964 Convention May Be Here, Prevention Week Planned

An offer to hold the 1964 Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association convention in Kingston, was presented Tuesday evening at the September meeting of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

A committee will investigate possibilities and report back at the October meeting.

The invitation was extended by a committee representing the H.V.V.F.A., who attended Tuesday evening's meeting at Highland where the County Association was guest of Highland firemen.

The invitation was extended by Al Belle Isle, chairman of the board of directors of the H.V. V.F.A., who was accompanied to the meeting by Charles Fales, past-secretary of the Association, and William Wooten, a member of the Resolutions Committee of the H.V.V.F.A.

The 1965 convention is being offered to Kingston, since 1964 will mark the 75th anniversary of the Valley Association. Ulster County was one of the three original counties included in the Hudson Valley Association.

Place for holding the 1963 convention has not yet been announced by the Convention Committee.

The meeting was called to order by President George Ohley of Saugerties. Thirty-seven companies were represented and the attendance numbered 140.

Plans for Fire Prevention Week were discussed and James Hicks, chairman of the committee reported not all material had been received.

Fire Prevention Week will be held during the week of October 7 and Chairman Hicks said as soon as all material is available it will be distributed from the Tillson firehouse to committee members who will see that the material is supplied to all schools.

Robert Fuhr, chief of the Stone Ridge Fire Company, was named chairman for distribution of Fire Prevention Week material in the Rondout Valley Central district.

Committee chairmen will be notified by Hicks when the material is on hand and the date for distribution.

A meeting of the five-county Sectional Clearing House will be held in Newburgh at Goodwill Fire Hall on September 30, at 7:30 p. m. at which time legislation to be offered at the coming session will be discussed. This meeting is for the counties of Ulster, Orange, Putnam, Dutchess and Rockland. Following discussion of proposed legislation at the sectional clearing meeting, the state-wide meeting will be held in October at Albany.

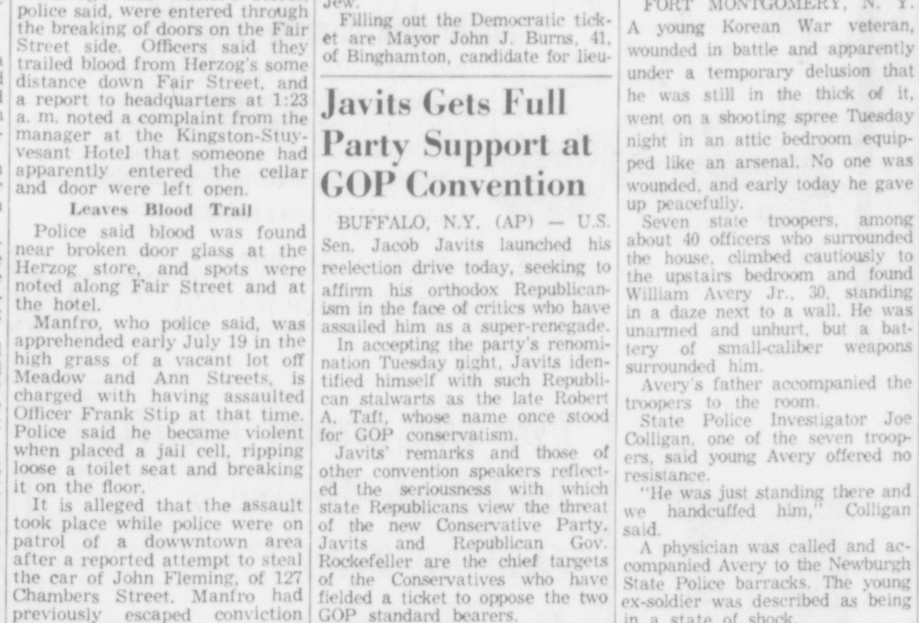

Former President Oscar Lambert, chairman of the committee named to study the proposed amendment to Section 88 of The Penal Law in relation to a revision to permit fire companies and other non-profit and charitable organizations to raise funds, stated that he would give a report on progress at the October meeting.

Members of the Inter-County Relations committee present included Joseph Wicker, vice-president of the Orange County Association, and Paul Blanchard, Orange County.

Two members were accepted, Joseph Sullivan of Saugerties and Marshall R. Winchell of Highland.

Hudson Valley Day will be held at the Hudson Firemen's Home on Sunday, September 23, and all are welcome to attend this annual event. There will be entertainment and a parade.

The October meeting will be held in Hurley as guests of the Hurley firemen.

COOPER LAKE GOING DOWN AGAIN—A dry summer is showing its result at the city's main water supply source as more land shows daily beyond the normal shoreline. The supply, while not yet considered at the danger point, is nearing the meager reserve left in the fall of 1957 when the water department decided to tap New York City's Ashokan supply. Replenishing rains came in time, however, and that action was unnecessary. The reservoir this week was approaching 12 feet below spillway level. It went down more than 17 feet in 1957. Unrestricted Prayer Is Desire of Legion

At the September monthly meeting of Kingston American Legion Post 150 last night it was voted to petition the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) to publicly advocate a "no restriction" policy in regard to school prayer.

The action came after Albert O. Sonnenberg, the Post 150 Americanism chairman read a memorandum from the New York State Legion headquarters urging all posts in the state give serious consideration to implementing the Legion's position on the subject. A resolution to this effect was adopted at the New York State Legion Convention on August 10.

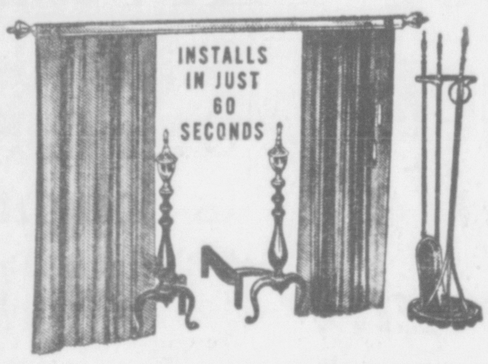

Sonnenberg then stated: "I have in my possession a copy of the official Supreme Court Case No. 468, Engel vs. Vitale, or better known as the New York State Regents Prayer Case which I have received within the past 24 hours. It seems that when the highest court in the land first made public its decision in the case of the New Hyde Park Board of Education directing the school district principal to cause the use of a prayer prepared by the State Board of Regents, the public immediately came to the conclusion that prayer was being banned in public schools. This is definitely to the contrary. The court's decision deals strictly with the principle of official prayers composed by government officials being a violation of the constitution. The gist of the decision of the court appears on page four of the majority opinion which reads as follows:

"The petitioners contend among other things that the state laws requiring or permitting use of the Regents' prayer must be struck down as a violation of the Establishment Clause because that prayer was composed by government officials as a part of a government program

Biggest Diplomatic Show

U. N. General Assembly Has Opened 17th Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The biggest diplomatic show on earth is open for another season in a glittering glass and concrete theater on Manhattan's East River.

The U.N. General Assembly will run until just before Christmas. Prospects are that it will reopen after the first of the year for several more weeks.

Mong Slim, a dapper Tunisian diplomat with the air of a Paris boulevardier, started things off on Tuesday afternoon by saying in French: "I declare open the 17th session of the General Assembly."

Delegates from the 104 nations could listen to a simultaneous translation in English, Spanish, Russian or Chinese—the four other official languages of the United Nations.

Slim sat behind a large podium of green marble at the front of the hall. He is small in stature, and he uses an extra cushion on his chair.

At his right sat the acting secretary-general, U Thant of Burma. At Slim's left C. V. Narasimhan of India, Thant's chief staff officer.

Stand for Meditation

By tradition, the delegates stood for a minute of silent prayer or meditation—each according to the dictates of his own religion or philosophy.

Most of the delegates wore Western dress. But many Africans chose the dress of their native countries—reds, golds and white among the varied hues.

Slim called upon the assembly to elect a successor to him as assembly president, and the prologue to the first act of the drama was about over.

For the first couple of weeks or so there will be general policy debate. Each chief delegate will march down the gently sloping aisles on heavy green carpeting to the speaker's rostrum to give his country's views on international issues.

Presidents, dictators and monarchs have addressed the assembly from the green marble rostrum.

Seating Arrangements

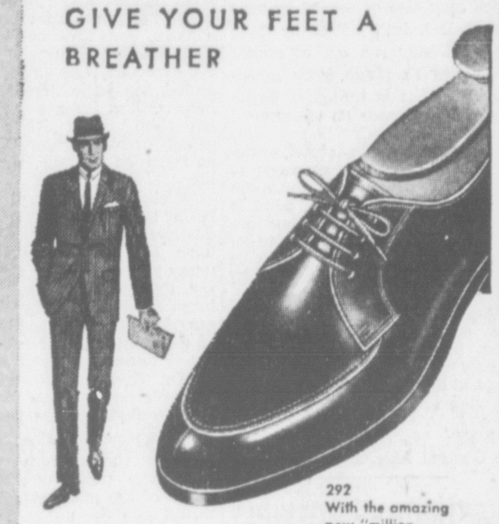

Each speaker looks out on rows of long green-covered desks that stretch to the back of the hall. There are no individual desks for delegates. For the most part two delegations share a long desk, behind which are two rows of 10 chairs each. Each delegation is permitted a maximum of 10 seats on the floor—five in the one row and five in the other.

Lot determines the seating of delegations for each assembly session. This year Guinea was chosen to occupy the first desk in the first row at the right of the speaker's rostrum. Haiti shares the desk. Honduras and Hungary make up the rest of the first row. The United States and Britain share a desk in the ninth row. So do the Soviet Union and the United Arab Republic.

TRACK HURRICANES

Herman Melville once wrote that the bravest men he knew were the whalers, who chased the great oil-bearing leviathans in fragile wooden boats.

If Melville were alive today, he might be hard put to choose the most daring adventurers from among astronauts, skyscraper riveters, paratroopers and others.

But top candidates would surely be the Hurricane Hunters, the men who fly directly into fearful Caribbean and Atlantic storms to gather the data on which weather predictions are based. They too, ride comparatively fragile craft to bait the sea-spawned monsters in their very dens.

Headquarters of the hurricane watching system is the National Hurricane Center in Miami, Fla., manned by U.S. Weather Bureau, Navy and Air Force Air Weather Service Personnel. These weathermen combine their efforts to provide advance warnings to civilian populations and military installations.

The 1962 hurricane season began on June 1, but the fall months are usually the ones which see the big blows that wreak havoc wherever they strike land.

When a tropical storm or incipient hurricane is reported far out at sea, the center goes on 24-hour alert. The staff is increased by 30 per cent and vacations are forgotten.

The most important data with which the weathermen plot their forecasts are collected by Air Force and Navy reconnaissance aircraft, based at widely scattered points and tied into the center via radio and teletype. Additional reports are received from ships and island stations and coastal radar.

The weather planes fly daily and special missions over a million and a half square miles of ocean, stretching from the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean northward along the east coast to Newfoundland and eastward to the European-African coast. This huge territory is divided into three areas, one scouted by the Navy, another by the Air Force and the third by both.

The whole operation is directed by a liaison officer at the center in Miami, who alerts the reconnaissance planes about a suspicious storm and receives their reports on its winds, cloud structures, temperature, pressure and other factors.

The Hurricane Center is a vital sentinel on our eastern shore, reaching out by means of men with wings to help protect the nation against hurricane-caused death and destruction.

The average city family last year had an income of $7,600—and probably spent about $9,000 of it.

A LOOK AT ROAD SAFETY

European nations are close to undertaking concerted action to reduce road accidents, which kill about 60,000 persons annually on the Continent. Some points about this development are of particular interest in this country, though in general the recommendations in an experts' report to the Consultative Assembly of the Council of Europe follow lines familiar to Americans for years.

For example, an intense public relations program stressing road safety is proposed. So is the addition to road safety as a required subject in the primary schools. Such proposals are not new to Americans.

Neither is that suggesting the standardization of roads, but one aspect of this does have special pertinence for Americans. Though there is a growing measure of standardization, greater uniformity in signs and the like would be helpful addition to safeguards against accident.

The European recommendation that makes particular sense for the United States, however, concerns licensing practices. A conference of experts found that 85 to 95 per cent of Europe's road accidents could be attributed to driver error. In line with this, it is proposed that not only physical reflexes but also emotional stability be taken into account in tests for driving licenses.

There is a need for something of the sort in this country—as soon, that is, as acceptable techniques have been worked out. Mental and emotional attitudes are responsible for an enormous number of accidents. The time will surely come when testing will undertake to determine such attitudes in advance. If the experiment is made in Europe, it will be most interesting to see what results.

THE BAY OF PIGS

It is now clear beyond doubt that the venture of the Bay of Pigs was an error. It should not have been started; if started it should have been carried to a logical conclusion which would have meant, ultimately if temporarily, an American occupation of Cuba. The Marines are more thorough than refugees or even reserves.

Ostensibly, we withdrew from the Bay of Pigs expedition after it had started because such an event would have been offensive to the Organization of American States and might have disrupted that body. It might even have been a violation of the Rio Treaty. Also, and this was the gamble, it might have resulted in Russian intervention. Although five American Ambassadors, reputable and able men, had informed the State Department of the Castro political orientation, neither the White House nor the State Department in either the Eisenhower or Kennedy Administrations acknowledged the Communist affiliation of the Castro Revolution.

Today, there is no doubt on that subject, except apparently in "The New York Times," which obdurately defends an untenable position.

Politicians rarely risk acknowledging errors. They may be used against them. Nevertheless, President Kennedy must sooner or later recognize that his decision concerning the Bay of Pigs was a grievous error. It is true that Khrushchev might have said that if you object to my being 90 miles from your coast, I object to your being in Pakistan, Iran, Turkey and West Berlin—places even nearer to my border.

But had Khrushchev said that, our answer could have been that our propinquity to the Russian border is the result of World War II which we entered mistakenly to rescue Soviet Russia as well as other countries from the Nazi terror. On the other hand, the United States policy in Latin America is based on the Monroe Doctrine which Russia, as a continuing nation, has incontrovertibly accepted since 1823.

If such conversations ever occurred, they are not recorded. Instead we appear to be on the verge of war with Soviet Russia over Cuba. One of the factors for optimism is that in the past, Soviet Russia has played on two fronts, expecting the West to fall into a trap. This happened during the Berlin Airlift when Soviet Russia established Red China as a satellite. It could be that in the Soviet mind, the United States can be led to compromise by giving up Berlin or possibly Iran on condition that Russia gave up Cuba.

It is too late for that because it is impossible to trust Russia or the Communist Party of any country.

The American difficulty arises from two phases:

1. It seems quite impossible for most Americans to realize that although the Russians are not 10 feet tall, nor do they all have superior intellects, they have in 45 years achieved a remarkable current position and an even greater potential in industry, science and art. They have recognized a simple fact, well understood in the United States since the day of Horace Mann, that a nation cannot progress unless its people are adequately educated. It is in the field of education rather than in diplomacy or industry that Soviet Russia is giving us a race. Their educational methods are focussed on national necessity although they have not neglected humanistic subjects.

It is silly not to recognize what they have accomplished and how, particularly if we have to fight them. To fight an enemy, it is necessary first to know the enemy. The American people, including many officials, do not know the Russians and it is sad to say, many do not want to.

2. What is even more important is for Americans to realize that blaming Eisenhower or Kennedy will not solve any problems. The Russians have a political system which makes it possible for a decision to be made. Within the margins of realism, Russian foreign policy has been consistent and constant since about 1920.

The United States from the time of George Washington to Theodore Roosevelt had a fairly consistent and constant foreign policy:

1. No entangling alliances;
2. Freedom of the Seas;
3. Protective Tariff;
4. Monroe Doctrine;
5. Open Door Policy.

Then we became involved and our policy became uncertain and confused. Since Woodrow Wilson, the United States has been used by friend and foe and it is time to bring ourselves out of this situation by returning to a fixed and continuous policy.

Ringworm's Growth Curbed Through Oral Medications

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Ringworm is an itchy nuisance that few can escape forever. Actually, the disturbance is caused by a fungus, not a "worm." And its rash is rarely ring-shaped, since it occurs most often where skin surfaces come into contact, such as between fingers and toes.

Ringworm is present nearly everywhere, especially where there is overheating and excessive moisture. Therefore preventive measures such as wading through pools of medicated water are useless. And sole dependence on local applications of powders or ointments containing fungus-killers is apt to give discouraging results.

With the introduction of griseofulvin, a drug that requires your doctor's prescription, a truly powerful fungicide was made available. Given in tablet form, the antibiotic gets into the blood stream after being swallowed and is carried to those areas where the annoying fungus has established beachheads. Under favorable conditions, it clears the infection within a few days. However, since I first wrote of this drug, many readers have written to complain of treatment-failures. It may be worth-while to explain the nature of these so-called "failures" and what can be done to prevent them.

In most instances, these failures appear to be due to incorrect use of the drug. In others, the failure appears not to have been a failure at all but a re-infection primarily due to a lack of understanding of the nature of the disturbance and of the limitations of the drug.

Here, in brief, are details that should help you to understand and prevent persistent infections:

An attack of ringworm confers no immunity so that recurrences are the rule.

The fungicidal effects of griseofulvin depend on the maintenance of a high blood concentration of the drug. If a high level is not attained, the fungus will survive and the infection will persist. If use of the drug is discontinued and precautions are not taken to prevent re-infection, the disturbance will recur.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The 17th session of the United Nations General Assembly opening in New York Sept. 18 should begin a year of consolidation for the world forum, says Harlan Cleveland, U.S. assistant secretary of state for international organization affairs.

LAST YEAR the General Assembly got talks started on peaceful uses of outer space, disarmament, economic development and trade. This year the emphasis is to be on keeping the peace.

The original idea that the U.N. would be the answer to all the world's problems has of course long since been abandoned. It is fully recognized that the U.N. is no Holy Grail.

But there is no inclination on the part of President Kennedy and Secretry of State Dean Rusk to downgrade the U.N. They believe there is an increasing role for the U.N. to play in the peaceful settlement of disputes — particularly where the presence of a third party can help mediate them.

Soviet Russia and its Communist satellite delegates have not yet revealed their hand for this session. But in the past they have tried and been fairly successful at keeping the world organization as nothing more than a diplomatic debating society.

THE PREVIOUS 16 General Assemblies have passed many large, inspirational resolutions. Most of them have lacked substance. The General Assembly of course has no power. It can't decide issues like a world court or carry them out like a world power.

But the broad resolutions the Assembly has passed in recent years have tended to weaken its influence. The American plan now —supported by other free nations —is to make sure that every issue is looked at and handled more responsibly.

One recent example of good U.N. action is cited in a midnight border battle between Syria and Israel. By 3 a. m., U.N. peace force officers were on the ground. By 7 a. m., they had it settled. This is "technological improvement in peace-keeping."

Other examples cited include U.N. mediation of the Thai-Cambodian dispute over a Buddhist temple on their border, agreement between The Netherlands and Indonesia over the future of western New Guinea and a new procedure for settlement of differences between Israel and the Arab countries.

To mediate the handling of the Arab-Israeli refugee problem the General Assembly revived the 10-year-old Palestine Conciliation Commission whose members are Turkey, France and the U.S.

They appointed Dr. Joseph E. Johnson of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace to mediate. He has been to the Middle East twice this year and worked out an agreement.

IT WAS ESSENTIAL this step be taken as the authority of the U.N. Relief Agency expires in early 1963. One thing this agency has done is to give some education to a million Arabs. So when any of the Arab countries now want technicians for their development programs, they come to the refugee camps for recruits. Camp population is still growing, but eventually this disgrace may be liquidated.

Chances are now considered fair that the Congo dispute with Katanga may also be settled by next spring. If it isn't settled by then, the U.N. may run out of money to finance its peace force in Africa. But if it is settled, a beginning may be made on withdrawal of these forces.

This prospect of peaceful settlement in the Congo is alarming to the Soviet Union and to some Americans also. But the point is now made that no half-dozen nations could have settled the Congo-katanga dispute acting alone. It took approved action by the U.N. majority to effect the settlement.

More action of this kind, it is now felt, may get the running sores off the U.N. General Assembly agenda, enabling it to do more of the work it was originally intended to do.

NEXT: The big issues before the General Assembly this year.

Kennedy, the Union Shop And 'Civil Rights' Issue

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Freedom of the individual in his beliefs is the boast of America. The school books teach it. Our representatives at the UN proclaim it. Our politicians preach it. Yet when the test comes as between human rights and the desire to favor a special group, hypocrisy occasionally takes over in Washington.

President Kennedy is an earnest and conscientious public servant, but as a champion of human rights, he sometimes emphasizes only those "civil rights" which will get him votes and does not risk a fight for basic principles that might lose him the votes of a pressure group.

A case in point is his outright advocacy of a system which compels a man to join a union to keep his job. Mr. Kennedy sees nothing wrong with this form of enslavement. True, liberals disagree with him. For if in free America, a man's fundamental beliefs today are subject to coercion—and even penalty—then the outcry for "civil rights" and individual freedom of belief has a hollow sound.

The principle of compulsory unionization, for instance, came up at Mr. Kennedy's news conference on Sept. 13. What the President said attracted little attention because, history tells us, as human rights are eroded, there is, unfortunately, a tendency to accept the doctrine that "the end justifies the means." The question arose in connection with the current dispute between labor unions and companies engaged in the manufacture of machinery for air-space projects. Four leading aerospace companies, especially Lockheed, have rejected the basic demand of the labor unions for a so-called "union shop." Mr. Kennedy was asked for this reaction. His reply, as recorded by tape, was as follows:

"Well, in the first place, most major industrial companies or industries in the United States have accepted the union shop many years ago—the steel industry, the auto industry, the aluminum companies, other basic industries. The unionship is part of collective bargaining. Particularly under the terms suggested by Dr. Taylor, a two-thirds vote —people do not have to join the union unless—to get the job.

Acceptable Practice

"After they've come to work, if it is the opinion of a large majority of the members, then they would join the union. This, as I say, has been acceptable for many years to many companies which are even larger than the ones that are involved."

The President went on to say that he hoped the companies would accept the proposal "because, if there is a strike, the responsibility would be clear, I think, to the American people for such an action."

Thus a President of the United States says, in effect, that a labor union may extort an advantage for itself—even though it violates human rights—and that, rather than bear the cost of a strike or its inconvenience, the American people must surrender to expediency and forego the principle of human freedom.

Now, the "union shop" is, to be sure, a part of the process of collective bargaining. So are blackmail and coercion and the threat to destroy an employer's business if he doesn't accept the union's demands.

But recently the country has been hearing a lot about the third party — the public — and much has been said about the "public interest." Does a form of compulsory unionization become right just because company after company has been forced, in the past, by coercive threats of strikes and financial loss to give in to union demands? Hasn't the President argued often that freedom of belief and freedom of conscience are guaranteed under "the law of the land."

The right of an individual to get a job and keep it without sacrificing his beliefs—by being forced to join any organization in whose purposes he does not believe—is inherent in the articles of the Constitution.

The argument of the labor unions is that the majority of the employes in a plant is the boss and can tell each worker to join or be fired. The worker isn't required to be a member when he applies, but if he gets the job, he must decide within 30 or 60 days whether to join the union or lose his job. The employer, under a contract with the union, becomes an unwilling partner in the conspiracy to deprive the worker of his right not to join a private organization. Nineteen states by law forbid compulsory unionization of any kind. These are called "right to work" laws.

Recognizing the injustice of compulsion, some unions have asked only for the "agency shop," which means that the non-union employe renders financial support by regular payments that help cover the cost of the bargaining done in his behalf — the equivalent of union dues. But the worker doesn't have to join the union. Even this partial removal of the flaw in the compulsory union system was not espoused by President Kennedy when he talked last week to his news conference. For most of the labor leaders are against the "agency shop," too.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

There is an enormous difference in the position of the United States government, regarding radio and television, and that of the people who peddle air-time. The government contends that it owns the airwaves. Private industry sells the thing the U.S. says it owns.

My job is not to take sides. It is, in the main, to tell a story or cite a premise. In 1925, when radio was a loud infant, Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover said: "Radio communication is not to be considered merely a business carried on for private gain, for private advertising or for entertainment of the curious . . ."

Two years later, the Federal Radio Commission issued a pronunciamento: "Advertising should be only incidental to some real service rendered to the public, and not the main object of a program." There are a lot of men in advertising agencies who dispute this. They apply the whip to the big networks: CBS, NBC and ABC and 47,000,000 homes are assaulted with such raucous noises as the gentlemen feel are needed to prod us into buying a specific product.

It is impossible for both sides to be right in this matter. In 1941, the first advertising matter was read over television station WNBT in New York. Since then, advertising has become a bigger and bigger part of our t.v. fare. In 1950, the industry was earning $185,000,000. Ten years later, it was taking in $1,495,000,000.

Today, the groaning public is hit with two and three commercials at a time. The same messages about the same products weary the same customers every day. Our children recite the repetitive jingles. Parents use the commercial time to get a drink of water, raid the refrigerator, or look up the next program. The fatigued mind braces itself for the next ecoonmic interruption.

At the movies, customers feel vaguely uneasy. No commercials. In a newspaper or a magazine, the customer has an option. If he doesn't like the advertising he doesn't read it. In t.v., you sit and take it whether you like it or not. And the more you take it, the less you like it.

The FC's man Minow said that television was a "vast wasteland." This was tactless and untrue. I find a lot to enjoy in television. You do, too. Mr. Minow seemed to think that he could threaten the industry into cultural entertainment. It is difficult to scare $1,495,000,000.

Still, he and his associates of the FCC control the licensing of all television and radio stations. And he and all his predecessors, with one or two exceptions (Doerfer, for one), have deplored the cheap assault of advertising. So far, they have not withheld a license on these grounds.

Long ago, the industry itself adopted a code of ethical practices, not with any intention of abiding by it, but rather as a pacifier for Congress. Some of the Senators and Congressmen who own parts of T.V. and radio stations were embarrassed by the crass methods used by air peddlers to make a buck. So the code was adopted, and died of neglect.

It is obvious now that the t.v. industry, the FCC, and the people do not agree. This, I think, is the time for Congress to step in and spell out some new rules for all hands. Television, as we knew it, cannot exist without advertising, whether the government deplores it or not. The Bob Hopes, the Perry Comos, the Jackie Gleasons, all come high.

None of us want the big shows to stop. We want them to continue, and to grow bigger. We have the best television in the world—far ahead of anything I've seen in any other country—and no one asks t.v. to retreat. But can't the message be given in half minute doses instead af a full minute? At the same price?

Why can't the advertising be labelled "advertising?" Why must it always be called a message, when it isn't? Section 1343 of the Federal Criminal Code forbids the use of radio or television to circulate any "scheme or artifice to defraud." The violation of this section can bring a fine of $1,000 and five years in prison for the perpetrators.

The tools, as you can see, are blunt. So far, such schemes to defraud have been referred to the Fair Trade group, which slaps the advertiser on the wrist and orders him to desist. However, as I said at the start, the entire matter is inequitable to the public, to television, and to the government because Congress never imposed rules which are binding on all parties.

The low moment in my evening at home is reached when a good star puts on a patent leather grin and says: "And now, ladies and gentelemen, a word . . ."

A word? . . .

Liberal Link Helped Javits Into Senate

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — For most of his political career, Jacob K. Javits, New York's senior U.S. senator, has had to put up with claims that he is in the wrong party.

The 58-year-old Republican is an unabashed liberal, and his performance in public office has led many a conservative Republican to complain that he is a Democrat in GOP clothing.

GOPer at Heart

But Javits maintains vigorously that he is a Republican at heart, and he argues that there should be room within the Republican party for varying shades of philosophy.

"I have never been ashamed to proclaim my pride in my Republicanism," he said in an almost defensive speech last week at a meeting of GOP candidates for the Legislature.

Javits' reputation as a liberal thinker helped launch him on his climb to the Senate. He began by running for Congress in a Democratic district in Manhattan. With backing from the Liberal Party, he won election to four terms.

In 1954, he was tapped by the State GOP to run against Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. for attorney general. He was the only Republican winner on the state ticket that year, and his decisive victory propelled him into the Senate nomination two years later.

Although he ran well behind the pace set by President Eisenhower in carrying New York in 1956, Javits won the Senate election handily — beating another son of a famous father, Robert F. Wagner Jr.

Favorite Again

He is considered a heavy favorite to win a second term.

Like Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, a running mate on this year's GOP ticket, Javits is Jewish and was born on the Lower East Side of Manhattan and worked his way through college and law school.

He was married in 1947 to the former Marion Boris, a dark-haired beauty who appeared in a small role in a recent motion picture and who writes a column on Washington doings for a New York newspaper. They have three children.

The number of kids it holds has never been settled.

The Volkswagen Station Wagon is a good four feet shorter than conventional wagons. Yet it holds more than the biggest wagon you can buy. (Herbert, stop that this minute!)

It holds an army of kids. Or eight adults. None of them skinny: the seats are five feet wide. All of them tall: the seats are higher than in conventional wagons. (Herbert, don't you dare!)

Take out the middle and rear seats, and you can carry a seesaw, a slide, a rocking horse. (Wait till I tell your father!)

Keep the rear seat in and you can still carry bigger, bulkier things than you could in a conventional wagon. A crib or a baby carriage. A chest of drawers standing upright. An open playpen. They fit comfortably through the wide side doors. (Herbert!)

All the way back, behind the rear seat, there's room for toys and luggage. Easy to load or unload through the back door. Or by reaching over the back seat.

Kinderhook Man Granted Mistrial In Vehicle Death

ALFRED, Maine (AP)—Superior Court Justice Randolph A. Weatherbee granted a defense motion Tuesday for a mistrial in the case of William H. Couch, 25, of Kinderhook, N.Y., charged with committing a motor-vehicle violation resulting in death.

Couch was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and fatally injuring a pedestrian, Mrs. Dorothy T. Linscott, 35, of Newton Upper Falls, Mass., on Route 1A in York June 30.

Weatherbee ruled the mistrial when a juror said he was a relative of an attorney representing the estate of Mrs. Linscott. The lawyer was at the trial.

Couch was released in $2,000 bail, pending further action at the court's January term.

Dems Name Negro As Lefkowitz Foe

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — New York Democrats have selected a Negro to run for attorney general, a milestone in New York politics.

It is the highest post to which a Negro has been nominated by either major political party in New York State.

The man is Edward R. Dudley, 51-year-old Manhattan borough president, former judge of the New York City Domestic Relations Court and onetime U.S. ambassador to Liberia.

"I'm delighted, of course," Dudley said in an interview, "and I felt it's long overdue in New York State politics."

The presence of Dudley on the ballot signified the increasing recognition by New York political leaders of the voting strength of the Negro.

On the Republican side, Gov. Rockefeller has been increasingly concerned with wooing the Negro vote, which traditionally is Democratic.

In his acceptance speech Tuesday night during the closing hours of the Democratic state convention, Dudley said he was aware of the fact that he was the first of his race to be nominated for such a high office.

He said he considered this aspect of his nomination "not only a distinction, but also a responsibility" to serve without favoritism of any group.

It reportedly took considerable pressure from Democratic leaders to bring Dudley on ballot.

Dudley said one of the functions of the attorney general that should be strengthened was protection of "human dignity." One of the ways that this could be done, he said, was the "strengthening" of the State Commission for Human Rights.

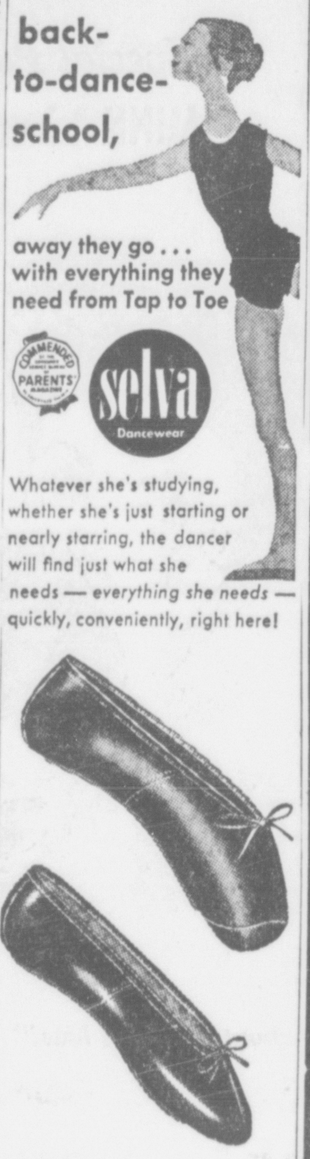

The commission, he said, should have the power to initiate complaints on its own and not be limited to acting only on complaints brought to it by others.

But he spelled out no other specifics of the platform upon which he will campaign against Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz.

Is Injured Fatally

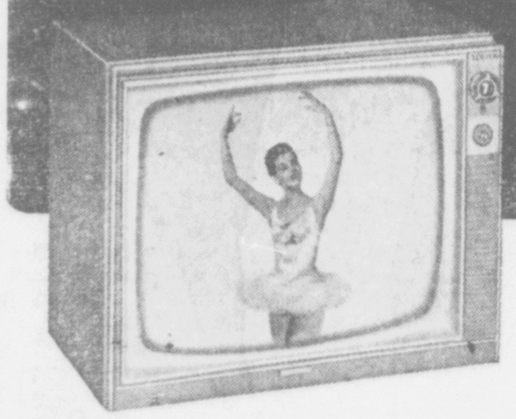

MONTREAL, N. Y. (AP)—Adam Woodson, 39, of the Plattsburgh, N.Y., Air Force Base, was injured fatally Tuesday night in the collision of two automobiles and a truck.

The accident occurred near the Mercier Bridge, which connects Montreal Island and the south shore of the St. Lawrence River.

Rural Citizens For Rockefeller Formed Upstate

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Bernard Potter, Cortland County dairyman, announced today the formation of Rural Citizens for Rockefeller and the Republican Team to campaign for Gov. Rockefeller and his running mates in the November election.

Potter is chairman of the organization.

He said more than 100 persons had volunteered to serve as chairmen and co-chairmen in nearly 50 counties.

The organization resulted, he said, from the "conviction of most people in rural areas that not only their interests but interests of all people of the state are most soundly advanced under complete Republican administration of state government."

Mrs. Robert Maier of Eden, County, is co-chairman of the organization.

Old Timer's Civil War Notes

By C. A. WINCHELL, Shokan, N. Y.

The Town of Saugerties ranked next to Kingston in the number of recruits enlisted in the Union Forces during the Civil War with approximately a thousand men serving under the Stars and Stripes. While the so-called Ulster County regiments were recruited largely from this town, there were many young fellows who signed up with other organizations in this and neighboring counties. These included the following: 15th Engineers; the Black Horse, Harris Light, Second and Seventh Cavalry Regiments; 15th Artillery, and the 115, 102, 44, 10, 113, 123 and First Infantry Regiments. There were also many men in the Naval Service.

One of the veterans living in the Saugerties area in post-bellum years was David W. Hommel, who was born, November 1, 1944, at Katsbaan, one of 13 children of Daniel T. and Caroline Fiero Hommel, in the old stone house which had been built by his great-grandfather, Peter Hommel. A member of Col. George H. Sharpe's famed 120th Infantry, he participated in several big battles and a number of skirmishes, and after the war he took charge of the family farm. Veteran Hommel was first soon after returning home.

married to Katie Freligh and their children were Herbert F., May, Margaret and Libbie. His second wife was Mary E. Abeel. He was a member of the official board of the Kiskatom Reformed Church and superintendent of its Sunday school. He belonged to the Grand Army of the Republic and the Royal Arcanum.

Their's to Do and Die

Scores of Saugerties men lost their lives during the four-year fratricidal struggle. Below are a few of these, together with their enlistment data and the time and place of their death:

1st Sgt. Geo. L. Smith—August, 1862, 120th—Killed Gettysburg July 2, 1863.

Sgt. Hezekiah Dubois—Sept. 15, '62, 120th—June 1, '63, Fortress Monroe.

Edward Prendergast, Jan 2, '64, 7th Artillery—Wounded, died

Cortland Craft, Jan. 1, '63, Artillery—October, '64, Fort Schuyler.

Addison Fairchild, Aug. 9, '62, 120th—Feb. 16, 1864, N. Y. City.

Jacob Darringer, Jan. 10, 1864, 156th Inf.—Aug. 8, '64, New Orleans.

Peter W. Teetsell, Aug. 11, '62, 120th—April 5, 1863, Falmouth, Va.

James F. Teetsell, Aug. 11, '62, 120th—Oct. 5, 1864, Petersburg, Va.

John F. Hallenbeck, Aug. 10, '62, 120th—July 10, 1864, Richmond, Va.

Wartime Notes, Circa 1864

September 15—The funeral of John Blackwell, 20th Infantry, at the First Dutch Church in Kingston, was largely attended.

The recruiting agents sent South by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors have returned without procuring men because the bounties authorized to be offered were less than those of other agents.

Our old Twentieth, Ulster Guard, has presented their Brigadier General Patrick with a fine sword, sash and belt.

The current war news is good. Heavy skirmishing and picket firing has taken place with the Army of the Potomac. Sherman is resting his army in the Atlanta area preparatory to finishing up the Confederate General Hood. Our successes in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia continue. Gen. Jubal Early is being badly handled by our Yankees.

Big City Doings

Ulster County people desiring to go to New York to see the fighting regiments come back on furlough can take the new elegant Steamer Mary Powell, Capt A. L. Anderson commanding which leaves Rondout 5:30 and arrives at foot of Jay Street 11 a. m. Another dayboat is the fast and elegant Daniel Drew, Capt. J. F. Tallman, which plies between Hudson and 30th Street . . . Also, the Chauncey Vibbard leaves Rhinebeck at 12 noon. Local passengers for boats stopping on the east side of the river can take the Ferryboat Lark, E. W. Bradbury, agent. Carriages in attendance to convey passengers to points on the other side of the river.

$1,000 for Area Church

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Personal and public bequests totaling $130,000 are contained in the will of Mrs. Mary Fuller Chalmers Wilson, who died Aug. 10.

She was the widow of the Rev. Dr. Andrew Chalmers Wilson, former rector of St. Paul's Church in Brooklyn, N.Y. He died in 1952.

Mrs. Wilson's estate was estimated to be worth more than $200,000.

The bequests include $1,000 to St. James Church in Hyde Park, N.Y.

Strong Staying Powers

Levitt Popularity Now Sharp Contrast to '61

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur Levitt's unanimous renomination by the Democratic State Convention was in sharp contrast with his position in the bleak hours of Sept. 1961, when his future as a top Democrat was in doubt.

Levitt had aligned himself with Tammany Leader Carmine DeSapio in a bitter fight against Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City. Wagner had given them a thorough drubbing in the primary on the September date.

Only Survivor of '58

The mayor took over as head of the party and there was every expectation he might insist that Levitt be dropped from the state ticket and dispatched to the political Siberia in which DeSapio now finds himself.

But Levitt has strong staying powers.

He was the only Democrat to survive the Republican sweep that carried Gov. Rockefeller into office in 1958.

He also has survived a plane crash and an automobile collision while on official travels.

Levitt, 61, is Jewish, a resident of Brooklyn, a graduate of Columbia Law School, a veteran of both World Wars, married and the father of one son.

Prior to his election as comptroller in 1954, he was president of the New York City Board of Education, which directs the largest school system in the world.

The comptroller is a trim, man of average height with gray, wavy hair. He tends to appear somewhat humorless and colorless among the many personality types flourishing in politics.

Has Many Assets

But Levitt has travelled extensively throughout the state, worked with local officials in many areas and has identified himself with pressing, local problems, such as the cost of building schools.

Those assets, plus the fact he was the only top Democrat publicly opposing Rockefeller during the first half of the governor's term, were among factors that enabled the comptroller to survive his political problems of a year ago and retain his place in the upper echelons of the party.

2 Face Further Police Quiz in Death of Man

MALONE, N. Y. (AP) — A 44-year-old man and his teen-aged nephew faced further questioning today in the death of a 71-year-old father of 24 children. His bullet-riddled body was found Tuesday in an isolated field.

The dead man was Elmer Shutts of North Bangor.

State Police said Victor F. Otis Jr., 18, of Syracuse, had given them a statement and led them to the body. They declined to reveal what the statement said.

The youth's uncle, Morris J. Carson of North Lawrence, St. Lawrence County, denied any connection with the slaying, troopers said.

No charges were filed in Shutt's death. Carson and Otis were held, however, on charges of illegal possession of firearms.

Lt. W.B. Surdam of State Police Troop B said it was a "situation in which we had the suspects before we had the body."

He said Carson and Otis were stopped early Tuesday at Watertown in what was described as a routine check. Police found two revolvers, a rifle and 200 rounds of ammunition in the car, Surdam said.

A check disclosed that the car belonged to Shutts and that he was missing.

More than 200 agricultural plants are produced commercially in California.

Parade Schedule At West Point For Fall Listed

The fall schedule of parades and reviews by the Corps of Cadets at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point has been announced by the Department of Tactics.

Weekday retreat parades at 5:25 p. m. Thursday and again the first three weeks in October Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. The last weekday parade is scheduled for Thursday, October 18, at 5:25 p. m.

Subject to Cancellation

As for the brigade reviews on Saturdays, there will be no reviews on September 29, October 27, and November 3, or after November 10, because of away football games. All ceremonies are subject to cancellation because of inclement weather or to alterations in the cadet training program.

Saturday, because of the game with Wake Forest College at Michie Stadium at 2 p. m., the review on The Plain will begin at 11:30 a. m. It is being held in honor of General George H. Decker, retiring Army chief of staff.

On October 6, the review will be held at 12 noon. The game that day, with the University of Michigan, will be played at Ann Arbor, Mich. Selected cadets from the first and second (senior and junior) classes will attend this away game.

On October 13—the annual Alumni Homecoming Day—the review on The Plain will begin at 11:25 a. m. At 2 p. m. a home game with Penn State University will be played at Michie Stadium. The game is a sellout, with a record number of alumni and other supporters of the Army team being present for the game. It is expected that Secretary of the Army Cyrus R. Vance will be among the distinguished visitors to the Academy that day.

On October 20, the review on The Plain at 11:30 a. m. and the game with Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Michie Stadium at 2 p. m. are the major events of the day.

Final Game Nov. 10

The final Saturday review this season, as well as the final home football game, will be held on November 10, the former on The Plain at 11:30 a. m. and the latter a Michie Stadium at 2 p. m. The football team from Oklahoma State University will oppose the "Black Knights" that afternoon.

The public is invited to witness the parades and reviews and to attend the home football games. Tickets, which may be purchased through the Army Athletic Association, are available for all home games except the one with Penn State on October 13. Ticket booths are conveniently located at the Information Center, Doubleday Field and at Michie Stadium.

There are many other points of interest for visitors to the Academy, including: The Visitors' Information Center at the south end of the Post, which is open until November 18 this year; the various chapels on the post; the museum, open daily from 10:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.; and scenic views from Trophy Point and Battle Monument.

Canal Water Lowest

MONTREAL (AP) — The water level in the shipping channel on the St. Lawrence River downstream from Montreal has dropped to its lowest point in 30 years.

The level has been critically low all summer and dropped below the 35-foot minimum several times.

Last week, it fell to 34 feet, 5 inches, and large bulk and grain carriers had to be diverted to other ports.

One Way to Feather a Nest

Broke in 1939, Gives Away $2 Million in '62

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur B. Belfer arrived here from Poland on Sept. 5, 1939—four days after the outbreak of World War II—without a penny in his pockets or an asset to his name.

Belfer, 55, and the head of a far-flung business empire, donated $2 million to Yeshiva University Tuesday for its Graduate School of Science.

The events of the 23 years in between read like the fulfillment of the American dream.

Precarious Situation

Belfer was a successful dealer in down and feathers in Cracow, Poland, when he set sail for the United States on a business trip, leaving his wife and three children behind.

When he arrived here he discovered that Poland had ceased to be an independent country. The money he had with him and the funds he had left behind were worthless.

His situation was precarious in another way, since he had entered the United States on a visitor's visa and had no country to return to.

Belfer was detained at Ellis Island for three days, then was allowed to enter the United States for 60 days on condition he would emigrate to Canada.

He left Ellis Island—after borrowing $5 for spending money—and made his way to Canada. Later he obtained an immigrant's visa and returned to the United States. Subsequently, he managed to bring his family here.

Using his knowledge of the international feather market, Belfer interested a New York broker in purchasing feathers in Europe, where they were selling far below U.S. market prices.

Became Citizen in 1946

The result of these transactions permitted him to get back into business on borrowed money. By 1942 he was manufacturing sleeping bags for the armed forces.

In 1946, Belfer became a U.S. citizen. Four years later he branched out into the foam rubber business. In 1952, he went into oil in Texas and acquired property in Wyoming.

Belfer is head of the Belco Petroleum Corp. which deals in oil and natural gas and is listed on the New York Stock Exchange. His son, Robert, is a lawyer with the corporation. Belfer's two daughters are married.

3 County Grange Units Cited for Community Help

Ulster County is among those which have gained laurels in the 15th annual Community Service contest conducted by the National Grange and the Sears-Roebuck foundation to reward Granges for activities in behalf of their communities.

Awarded honorable mention and a $50 U. S. bond are three Ulster Granges—Plattekill, Hurley and Mt. Tremper.

For the first time in the history of the service competition, the first and second prizes went to the same county, Dutchess. Oak Grove Grange, Wappingers Falls, received top award for a series of projects headed by construction of a community fall-out shelter. Stanford Grange, Stanfordville, won second honors, with a primary project of establishing a Round Table at which representatives from more than 20 organizations have gathered to learn about and discuss town topics. Third place winner was Benton Grange, Penn Yan, Yates County. Its No. 1 activity was converting a vacant lot into a playground for children.

The winners, including those receiving honorable mention, will be honored at special ceremonies in connection with next month's convention of the New York State Grange at Syracuse. A total of 779 Grange units participated in this year's activity according to Russell S. Curtis, Cazenovia, state master.

Caught in Middle

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Contempt of court threats and mounting political pressure caught the State College Board from opposite sides today in the University of Mississippi desegregation crisis.

Board members planned to handle routine affairs of the state colleges in committee meetings on the eve of a regular board session Thursday. A source close to the college board said, however, a called meeting to handle the desegregation problem was possible.

James Meredith, a 29-year-old Kosciusko Negro, remained just across the Tennessee line at Memphis, waiting on his attorneys to advise him when to make the 50-mile trip to Oxford to register as the university's first Negro student.

Children's Home Addition

Children's Home Adds New Wing for Increased Service

Construction got under way this week on a seven thousand square feet addition to The Children's Home, 77 East Chester Street.

The building, the first major construction at the home since 1903, will provide much needed remedial classrooms, recreational facilities and office space. It is hoped that construction will be completed by early summer of 1963.

The plans call for the addition of services which are urgently needed to cope with the complex family and child care problems facing the agency. It has been evident for some time that the overcrowded living conditions and the ever increasing number of children coming into care make it mandatory that additional quarters be provided.

The lack of space for recreation and varied group activities for such a large number has been extremely difficult. This is particularly true during the long winter months and because of this the supervision and development of the group has been seriously impaired. Trying to incorporate into the limited and already overcrowded facilities of the community has been an impossible scheduling problem. In addition, the cost factors and the holiday closing of most community facilities has been very discouraging.

Remedial Program Important

The plans also call for the construction of a classroom for a remedial education program. This will take care of the ever increasing number of children who are severely damaged emotionally resulting in very serious learning problems.

Included in this group are the many acting out children who become behavioral problems in a large group. It will also include a great number who are continually truant from school for long periods, making it necessary to provide them with special attention.

These children must all have individual attention so that the serious retardation problem can be overcome.

It should be noted that these children will be kept in this class only so long as the need exists, thereby making it possible for a speedy return to the public schools. No plan has been provided for this group of children in the public school system and there are none for the future, because of the complex legal aspects of eligibility.

In discussing the proposed changes Gerald E. Shampo, executive director, pointed out "that the old concept of child care was one of strict regimentation. It was thought that a warm bed, food, and clothing or merely custodial care was all that was necessary. The children were all treated exactly alike no matter what the need of the individual was."

Individual Needs Considered

"We know today that if we are to be successful with children," he said, "one must give consideration to the individual needs. Those who have been deprived and starved for love and consideration must have more attention. Those who come with personality deficiencies, character disorders, or serious lack of training in the moral and spiritual areas must be given intensive counseling and guidance. Where we were once concerned with the minimum needs of a whole group," he observed, "we are now concerned with the individual and his complete development. This is extremely important if the deprived youngster is going to enjoy a well adjusted, full and happy life."

Mr. Shampo went on to say that for many years the recreation situation has been a problem here. The State Department which provides the license for the care of children has recommended over the years that something be done about providing indoor play space.

In the junior boys cottage for instance, 15 boys are housed on three floors. The play space available for these boys is a room 13 by 16 feet. The room serves as a television, reception and reading facility.

The main building where the senior boys group is housed has similar problems. This structure houses 23 boys in addition to a kitchen, pantry, dining room, library and staff quarters.

One of the rooms used for recreational purposes, which was really too small for such use, was converted into sleeping quarters to take care of the influx of new boys. This leaves a room 14 by 20 feet for the 23 Senior boys. These boys are older and must have more diversified interests in terms of their activity.

Mr. Shampo emphasized the fact that the boys at the home do not wander or loiter on the streets, but are required to remain on the grounds unless they have specific appointments in the community.

The new facilities will provide a greater variety of recreational activities and give more opportunity to the group to invite their friends in to participate with them.

Social and Sports Programs

Intramural sports and healthy competition with their friends in the community will be encouraged as will a social program which can be shared mutually by boys and girls.

The need for a remedial class facility has been evidenced over a period of many years. Boys with severe deficiencies in basic learning skills in reading, writing and arithmetic are frequently retained in grade or promoted automatically because of age. It is also known that boys kept back a year are very rarely asked to repeat the grade again even if they can not yet master their work. Some boys two, three or more years deficient in reading skills are unable to learn in other subjects where reading is a primary factor. The home over the years has provided tutoring assistance through the services of volunteers on a weekly basis. This service has been of great help to many of the children. There are however many boys in need of a daily remedial instruction program before there can be any appreciable improvement in their progress. One third of all boys accepted over a three year period have repeated their grades while in placement. Many of this same group had previously been retained in grade before admission to the home. It takes at least six months to a year to make progress with their other problems before one can hope to settle them around with their educational needs.

The above factors all have a devastating effect on the individual boy aside from the increased tuition costs. The remedial education program would also be made available to school districts of Ulster County who have emotionally disturbed youngsters of average ability who would benefit greatly from this type of setting.

The plan also calls for the moving of all the present offices out of the existing building thereby making room for 12 additional children.

It was pointed out that the present open location of the offices made it extremely difficult to enjoy maximum privacy. The personal conferences held and the material discussed from day to day is extremely confidential in nature and it is very important that the lives of the parents and the children be completely protected.

Provides Family Counseling

It should also be noted that for a number of years now The Children's Home has been, in addition to its other work, providing limited family counseling. Many families in the community have sought the services of the home in connection with marital and children's problems.

Mr. Shampo said that the entire cost for the new facilities, with the exception of the cost for furnishings, which they do not have, has been supplied in the form of bequests. The individuals who have provided these bequests have had great concern for the needs of the deprived children. They have wanted to see The Children's Home develop into an active, effective agency which will aid all of those in need in Ulster County.

Many have indicated great interest in the project and all in Ulster County may give their support to the project.

The architect for the building is Harry Halverson and the general contractor is Henry Swart and Son.

Dr. Whitfield was guest speaker at the regular quarterly meeting of the Benedictine staff.

Heavy Explosion Rocks City Areas

A heavy explosion rocked various areas of the city after noon today, and police headquarters was swamped with complaints.

Sergeant Thomas Tomshaw said the phone began ringing at 12:12 p. m. and irate citizens complained about the blast.

"I called Callanan Road Improvement Company, South Rondout," Sergeant Tomshaw said, "and the company confirmed that it had set off a blast."

Everett A. Vignes of 63 West Chester Street told a Freeman reporter "it was a Lulu."

He said he called the parsonage of Trinity Methodist Church on West Pierpont and Wurts Streets and was told that fixtures shook and plaster fell from the ceiling. He's on the official board of the church.

Peter Camp of West Pierpont Street told Sergeant Tomshaw when he complained by phone that "I was listening to the noon radio news and was almost bumped right out of my chair."

Tomshaw said that reports came from residents of other sectors including Warren, Fair, Van Deusen, West O'Reilly, Trenton and Abeel Streets also Pine Grove Avenue.

Whenever explosions are reported to the police a roundup is made to verify which commercial establishment in the area set off a blast around the time of the complaints.

Converse House Has Third Fire

A Converse Street house was damaged for the third time this summer by a fire of suspected incendiary origin.

One only a few days ago was referred to police for an investigation and another this morning starting in old furniture and rubbish on the second floor, damaged sections of the attic, ceiling and roof. The owner of the house is listed as Cecelia Clark, of New York.

Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations, the Wicks, Excelsior and Wiltwyck volunteer companies answered a call at 9:55 a. m.

Firemen checked a fire of suspected incendiary origin in he house last June, and another only days before that of this morning.

A call at 5:40 p. m. Tuesday to the house of George Nettle, 84 Harding Avenue, was for a blaze caused by the igniting of grease on a range. It damaged cabinets, wall and ceiling areas, but was out on arrival of firemen. Units from Wiltwyck Station responded.

Held in TV Store Break

Surprised in the act of attempting to break into the Dutchess Television Store, Spackenkill Road near Route 9, Town of Poughkeepsie, at 1:20 a. m. today, two New York City men were apprehended and held on charges of attempted third degree burglary. Town Police Chief Vincent Smith told The Freeman, Sergeant Philip McCreedy and Patrolman George Lochner were on patrol in a police car, when they spotted two persons running from the television store. Police gave chase and apprehended one of the pair identified as William James Pitts, 36, a Manhattan truck driver. A radio call to police headquarters for assistance in finding the second man who fled into a wooded area, was answered by Detective Sergeant Richard Hellman and several policemen, who surrounded the area. The second man, identified by Chief Smith as Thomas Nelson, 21, a Manhattan laborer, was captured after two warning shots were fired into the air by police.

Speedy Return Demanded

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A powerful army faction which revolted against Argentina's military leaders demanded today a speedy return of government to the people.

The army command asserted the rebellion had been put down, but there was no evidence of this.

The cavalry corps and the strong Campo de Mayo garrison near Buenos Aires, advocating early elections and constitutional government, told President Jose Maria Guido to choose between them and the army high command.

The rebellious officers remained strongly entrenched at the powerful Campo de Maxo base, backed by tanks.

They charge that the army command, which thrust Guido into the presidency early this year, wants to impose a military dictatorship.

Celebrating Inside

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) —A popular fund drive to aid the West Virginia centennial celebration has received one bit of unexpected support.

A prisoner in the State Penitentiary here sent Gov. W. W. Barron $10 to help centennial planners.

Officials said the unnamed convict, serving a term for breaking and entering, probably won't be out in time to participate in the Mountain State's 100th birthday celebration next year.

Walked Far to Mom

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)— When a teen-ager ran away one night from a lakeside boys' camp for delinquents, Kentucky welfare officials searched vainly for him for two days. Then, shoes torn and feet blistered, the boy showed up 225 miles away at his much stricter former training institution. "Hi, mom," he told a house parent. "I've come back home." Officials let him stay.

• BRIDGE Americans Bid Too Much

BY OSWALD JACOBY

When Italy held the North-South cards on deal 66, of the world tourney the bidding went as shown in the box. South made a good decision when he failed to rebid over East's two spades but West made a bad decision when he went to three spades. His partner could only raise to two and West could not expect to make game.

North opened his doubleton diamond. East's king lost to the ace and a spade was returned. Declarer played low and so did North. Dummy's nine won the trick and a diamond return was taken by South's jack. South lost a second spade and again West finessed. This time North was ready with the king. He won and led another spade to get rid of dummy's last trump. Declarer still had to lose a heart, a club and two more diamonds and was down three.

At the other table, Italy also reached three spades. South opened the bidding with a diamond and after a one spade overcall and a raise to two by East, South doubled to force his partner to bid.

West went to three spades. If North had doubled we would have made a profit. If he passed we would have broken even. But North bid four clubs and found a way to go down four tricks. The loss was 11 International Match points.

Carnright Heads Chest Drive in Saugerties Area

The Saugerties Community Chest Drive got started this week with the acceptance of the drive chairmanship by Robert Carnright, prominent Saugerties attorney.

In accepting the chairmanship Carnright said that "the Community Chest approach to raising funds is the only answer to the increasing burden of individual charity drives on the community. The seven agencies now in the local chest represents an excellent beginning and the most convincing means of encouraging additional agencies to join the chest is to carry on a successful Community Chest campaign."

Carnright is a partner in the law firm of Schirmer and Carnright and has been assistant county attorney since 1954. He graduated from Saugerties High School and Union College, after which he completed his studies at Albany Law School.

This year's chairman has been active in local civic activities for many years and is a veteran of World War II having served in the U.S. Navy. A member of the Saugerties Reformed Church, Carnright, his wife and three children reside at Washburn Terrace in the Village of Saugerties.

Tough new '63 Chevrolet Trucks are here!
...THE ONES THAT WHIPPED THE BAJA RUN...TOUGHEST UNDER THE SUN... TO SHOW THE WORTH OF NEW ENGINES, FRAMES AND SUSPENSIONS!

Millions of years ago nature fashioned a proving ground for trucks that man can never duplicate. Today it is known as the Baja (bah' hah) California Peninsula, Mexico.

If you think you build a tough truck, this is the place to find out. This road bears no resemblance to highways on the Mexican mainland.

It's fine for 140 miles below the U.S. border. Then the beating begins. Rocks and hard-baked ruts bang, punch, jab and jerk the trucks from stem to stern. Loose sand makes them struggle and strain. Dust chokes them. Heat roasts them. Rivers drench them.

The Baja Run took this Chevrolet truck caravan 17 days to go the 1,066 miles. It was made up of a Carryall, a ½-ton pickup with new 230-cu.-in. 6-cylinder engine, a ¾-ton pickup with new 292-cu.-in.* 6-cylinder engine, a medium-duty unit with refrigerated van, a medium-duty diesel tanker, and a heavy-duty tandem.

All the trucks performed magnificently. Not one was forced to drop out because of mechanical difficulty.

Trucks that can take this kind of beating can take on your toughest truck jobs. See the tough quality-built '63 Chevrolet trucks with all their new improvements. *Optional at extra cost.

CHEVROLET
QUALITY TRUCKS COST LESS

When you came to a river, you got wet. This Baja river bottom was covered with rocks the size of melons. It was a rough crossing.

Tight squeeze for the conventional medium- and heavy-duty units in this narrow gorge. Their new narrower front ends certainly paid off here (7 inches slimmer).

Sometimes the caravan crept along for hours in low gear. It took 17 days to go 1,066 miles! This is the road south of Loreto.

◀ The new ladder-type frames on all models took severe punishment from terrain such as this (as did all components, of course).

Temperatures as high as 122 degrees F. burned the land around Dry Lake—one more ordeal the trucks had to shrug off.

State Sets All Rules For Soviet Banking

EDITOR'S NOTE—Following is the second of two articles describing the Soviet banking system.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American bankers report that the citizens of the Soviet Union are taking to two of the booms long associated with the capitalistic system.

They can build up capital for themselves, and for the state through its banking system, by setting up individual banking accounts, both of the deposit and savings variety. And they can indulge in that status symbol of the affluent society—instalment debt.

Lower Than U.S. Interest

True, interest paid on bank accounts doesn't match some of the fancy figures offered by various competing savings institutions in the United States. And buying on time, a come-lately to the Soviet Union, has limitations that would appall the average American family.

The Communist version of both the savings and instalment programs were explained to 18 visiting American bankers at the Internal Banking School in Moscow.

The state sets all the rules, determines the interest rates, and the requirements for getting credit—and keeps a particularly sharp eye on the matter of repayments. The profits of savings and instalment banking, as well as of all other forms of banking in the Soviet Union, go for paying expenses. If anything is left over, it goes to the state—there are no stockholders.

Americans returning from the meeting, which brought financiers of 51 nations together, tell how the Soviet version compares with the American.

Compare Systems

State savings banks — separate from the main banking system—accept current accounts from the citizens and readily allow withdrawals. This is the closest a Soviet citizen comes to what Americans call a checking account. On such funds they get 2 per cent. On savings accounts, without ready withdrawal, the banks pay 3 per cent.

Some 53 million Russians have started savings accounts. And the Americans were told the balance at the start of 1962 exceeded 11.7 billion rubles—close to $13 billion at the official rate.

Buying on the cuff started in the Soviet Union in 1960, well after most of the old guard Communist ideologists were gone. American bankers say the practice apparently is restricted to goods in abundant supply.

A comrade can't get a car on the monthly payment plan. For one thing, there aren't many cars to be had. For another, the repayment rules would make it next to impossible for the average Russian to buy a car that way even if this were allowed.

As the American bankers report the Soviet instalment purchase system, interest rates are held to 2 per cent, but there is a minimum deposit of 25 per cent and the maximum period for repayment is 12 months.

More appalling to an American collector of big ticket items would be the rule that the total of such debt must not exceed four months pay.

Savings and Loan Gains in August

Net savings in New York State's savings associations during August grew by $37,826,345. This represents an increase of 12.9 per cent above their gain in August 1961, according to the Savings Association League of New York State, although the inflow of new savings, before withdrawals, lagged behind that of the year before.

"New savings in these thrift and home financing institutions during August amounted to $152,942,070," said David Ford, League president. "This was $11,-610,111, or 7.1 per cent, below the comparable figure of $164,-552,181 for August 1961 But last month's withdrawals of $115,-115,725 were 12.2 per cent below the $131,052,903 taken out in August 1961, which made this August's net accretion to accounts greater than that of the year before. The savings gain was the second highest for any August. The record for the month — $38,511,060 — was attained in 1960."

Highway safety includes looking out for school children—especially if they are driving a car. ● NEA ●

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It is something of an open secret that, inside television, it is expected that most of this season's real excitement will be generated by the public affairs, information and documentary programs.

During the past few years, while television entertainment has been slipping gradually into the hands of Hollywood's facile manufacturers of B features, network news departments and private packagers have been learning to build meaty, professional and illuminating programs based on reality.

There is considerable irony in the vast difference between the often shoddy pieces of fiction and enthusiastic, painstaking efforts in reporting the realities. The irony is that the vast television audience, in every survey ever made, has shown a clear preference for entertainment, however feeble.

It is a rare news show — the launching of an astronaut, the critical balloting at a political convention—that can even begin to compete with the popularity of the shabbiest, most cliche-ridden Western or situation comedy.

The proof of every television pudding is still its popularity rating — the old and controversial numbers game that remains, in spite of all the disclaimers, the cold hard basis on which most advertisers decide whether or not to sponsor a show.

CBS Radio recently announced results of a 12-month study which, among other things, indicated more than half the viewers want to hear something besides music on the air waves. Most complaints involved too much rock 'n roll music, too many commercials, hard-sell commercials and loud sound effects. Also, most radio listening still is done at home—only about a quarter of it in automobiles.

Recommended tonight: "The Virginian," premiere, NBC, 7:30-9 (EST)—big, economy-size Western with Lee J. Cobb and James Drury; "Wagon Train," return, ABC, 7:30-8:30 — the established show on a new network; "CBS Reports," return, 7:30-8:30—"The Teen-Age Smoker," starts the show's new season at an earlier hour.

Eighth Purple Heart

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Lt. Col. Howard C. Blazzard of Louisville won his eighth Purple Heart award recently. He was wounded on a helicopter mission in South Viet Nam.

Blazzard's other Purple Heart award came for wounds in combat during World War II.

SWEETIE PIE By Nadine Seltzer

"I wished I had back all the money I've thrown in this thing!"

On Teaching Fishing

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—If Gordon Yetman has his way, students in Oklahoma's rural schools will be learning to fish. Yetman, factory representative for a Tulsa sporting goods manufacturer, is heading a campaign to introduce instruction in the use of a rod and reel into the physical education curriculum of Oklahoma's rural schools. "After all, we have junior baseball golf, tenns and basketball," Yetman said. "Why not junior fishermen who know the fundamentals of catching fish?"

Drew Straws for Ann

MAYFIELD, Ky. (AP)—Ann Hunt is a star shortstop on the Junior Boys Baseball League at Mayfield. "She hits better than most of the boys," says recreation director Bob Pay. Ann was invited to play after participating in preseason workouts. The teams drew straws for her.

Men Take Over At Beauty Ranch

By DORIS KLEIN

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "If we stuck around town, it would be the same old round of booze and broads—you can't keep in shape that way."

The speaker, notably out of shape, was explaining why he and other upper bracket businessmen and actors were indulging in a week of carrot salads, anti-wrinkle facials, herbal baths and pedicurrs.

It was men's week at the Golden Door, one of the nation's most exclusive beauty ranches.

The ranch, 100 miles south of Hollywood in Escondido, is normally a feminine preserve. Among the patrons are Zsa Zsa Gabor, Jeanne Crain and Mrs. Milton Berle of Hollywood, and Mrs. Clint Murchison of Texas.

"We thought the men might like to see what their wives get for $450 a week," said Dr. Anne-Marie Bennstrom, the shapely, blonde Swedish proprietor.

Four times a year, she opens the ranch to men only. The regulars include actors Jim Backus and Bob Cummings, producer Stanley Kramer, onetime movie tarzan Johnny Weissmuller, writer Aldous Huxley and Fred Levy, a part owner of the Los Angeles Rams football team.

One wears a sweat shirt with the words "Teacher's Pet." He's Bob Prescott, president of Flying Tiger Air Lines, a regular whom Anne-Marie married a few months ago.

The men get the same rooms as the women—white, gold and red plush. They get the same beauty routine.

The day begins with a four-mile hike, then breakfast in bed.

"The exercises are marvelous," a sweating, retired Wall Street broker told me minutes before 118-pound Anne-Marie sent his 200 pounds sailing during "resistance exercises."

In a room nearby, six men, stripped to the skin, were wrapped in muslin sheets soaked in fragrant oils.

"The ancient Egyptians used to use herbal oils to preserve mummies," one of them explained.

Across the patio, three others were indulging in facials, manicures and pedicures. One had his feet thrust in quilted pink plastic booties for an oil treatment.

"It all sounds kind of fruity," said Dr. Jerry Javer, a trim San Francisco neurosurgeon. "But when I look at the other doctors I know, this seems like the best way to avoid a coronary."

Very Successful

Cataract is the most serious single cause of blindness among American adults today. Surgery, the only known effective cure for cataract, is safe and successful in more than 95 cases out of 100, according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Truck Driver Is Facing Another Charge of Murder

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—A 32-year-old truck driver faced another charge of first-degree murder today in the shooting of a woman friend that occurred the day before the first slaying he has been accused of.

Dist. Atty. Spencer Feldmann of Madison County said after questioning Philip Quinlivan of Binghamton Tuesday that Quinlivan had admitted he shot Mrs. Clara M. Blair, 46, of Earlville, during an argument Sept. 9. They had been dating for about a month.

Shot in Rural Home

Broome County officials had said earlier that Quinlivan had admitted the fatal shooting of Mrs. Iva Munson, 41, Sept. 10 in her remote rural home near Windsor, about 10 miles east of here. He did not know the woman, and the motive for the slaying has not been revealed.

Meanwhile, Broome County Dist. Atty. Stephen Smyk announced Tuesday night that Leon McIntyre, about 33, had admitted the fatal stabbing last July of John J. Bonus Sr., 58.

Smyk said McIntyre went to detectives and told them his story after he heard Quinlivan was to be questioned in the Bonus death.

McIntyre was disturbed that someone who had nothing to do with the crime might be accused, the district attorney reported.

Was Disturbed

McIntyre had been questioned in the case several times previously. He and Bonus, both described as unemployed transients, had been seen drinking together on the night of July 11. Bonus' body, stabbed eight times, was found early the next day.

No motive for the slaying was disclosed.

Feldmann said Quinlivan told him that he and Mrs. Blair, a mother of four who was separated from her husband, had driven to a state-owned reforestation area in Southern Madison County and had an argument there about Quinlivan's going out with other women.

Feldmann said that it was believed the same .35-caliber rifle was used in both the Blair and the Munson killings.

Both women were shot in the head.

Must Name Candidates

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — The nomination of Mayor John J. Burns to run for lieutenant governor on the Democratic state ticket left Democratic leaders of the 33rd congressional district the job today of naming a new candidate for U.S. representative.

Thomas Maurer, executive assistant to Burns, confirmed today an earlier statement that he would pull out of the congressional race if Burns were nominated. Burns was tapped Tuesday night at the party's Syracuse convention.

Maurer said he planned to devote himself to city matters.

Leaders of the congressional district, which comprises Broome, Tioga, Tompkins and Chemung counties, will meet to select a substitute. No date was set.

Senate Vote Due

the year to do it, running 14 hours and 20 minutes.

Several major efforts to water down the bill were included in the defeated amendments, but none of the proposals touched the major powers in the bill.

These include authority to cut all present tariffs 50 per cent and a completely new power to eliminate duties entirely on products for which the United States and the European Common Market account for 80 per cent of world trade.

Unrestricted . . .

to further religious beliefs. For this reason, petitioners argue, the State's use of the Regents' prayer in its public school system breaches the constitutional wall of separation between Church and State. We agree with that contention since we think that the constitutional prohibition against laws respecting an establishment of religion must at least mean that in this country it is no part of the business of government to compose official prayers for any group of the American pople to recite as a part of a religious program carried on by government."

Refers to Note

Sonnenberg then referred to a footnote on page 14 of the court decision which states: "There is, of course, nothing in the decision reached here that is inconsistent with the fact that school children and others are officially encouraged to express love for our country by reciting historical documents such as the Declaration of Independence which contain references to the Deity or by singing officially espoused anthems which include the composer's professions of faith in a Supreme Being, or with the fact that there are many manisfestations in our public life of belief in God. Such patriotic or ceremonial occasions bear no true resemblance to the unquestioned religious exercise that the State of New York has sponsored in this instance."

"In the court's decision," Sonnenberg pointed out, "reference is made on page two to the First Amendment to the Constitution which commands: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." This makes it clear that school prayer has not been deemed unconstitutional but that the free exercise thereof has been guaranteed by our constitution and cannot be regulated. As in the case of the State Board of Regents prayer, no school board can prescribe a prayer since they too are a sub-division of government. This, in effect, returns prayer in the school classroom back to the discretion of the teacher, the same condition that existed before the Supreme Court decision was handed down."

"Opening a school day with prayer by the teacher, pledging allegiance to the flag and singing any or all verses of the Star Spangled Banner or any other patriotic songs whenever feasible are permissible. The American Legion which for the past 44 years has dedicated its service to God and Country advocates this ritual which is not regulated but granted to us under the First Amendment to our Constitution."

"In this respect, the Board of Education of the Kingston School District (Consolidated) should be petitioned to make clear to all concerned that they are imposing no restriction in the exercise of religion other than that it shall not violate the law. I also feel that we should further petition the Board of Education to dispel any further confusion and fear by prescribing that whenever feasible, all school days or school events begin by including the pledge of allegiance to the flag, singing of the national anthem and prayer at the discretion of the teacher or school official in charge. The present board proposal to open classes with silent prayer is being interpreted to be a restriction by some who maintain this is a violation of the First Amendment. Being restricted to silent prayer is interpreted as not permitting the "free exercise thereof" pertaining to freedom of religion mentioned in the aforesaid First Amendment."

Following this report, the post voted unanimously to have Adjutant Charles King prepare the necessary petition prescribed by Americanism Chairman Sonnenberg to be presented at the next meeting of the Board of Education. It was also voted to send a committee of Legionnaires to the board meeting to press for action on the subject.

Terms Imposed At County Court

Following selection of a jury, Claude Henderson, 27, Pine Island, this morning in County Court was sentenced to Clinton State Prison at Dannemora for a term of from 4 to 10 years at hard labor on a plea of third degree robbery.

Henderson has been charged with robbing and assaulting Mr. and Mrs. Paul Handy at their Modena store last May. He was charged with first degree robbery, second degree assault and petit larceny.

Charles Saccoman appeared by assignment for defendant and after entering the plea on behalf of Henderson, asked for leniency.

District Attorney David W. Corwin, said the crime had been a violent and vicious one and he asked that a severe penalty be imposed.

Also sentenced to Clinton State Prison by County Judge Raymond J. Mino today was Russell Henry Apgar, 38, of New Jersey who entered a plea of guilty to third degree arson. He had been charged with second degree arson for setting fire to laundry and boiler room at Napanoch Country Club on July 28, last. Judge Mino imposed a 7½ to 15 year sentence. Elmore Nathan appeared by assignment for defendant and said Apgar had been in difficulty in New Jersey for the same offense. He suggested that the defendant be sent to an institution where he might receive treatment and become a better citizen.

Ralph Willard Rice, on a plea of guilty to attempted petit larceny, was given a six months jail sentence. He was charged with malicious mischief, possession of burglar tools and attempted petit larceny for the July 11 entrance to the Beichert's gas station where damage was done and a Coca Cola machine broken. Robert Ortale appeared for defendant.

Donroy Nelson, Brooklyn, entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny for the taking of a truck from Ellenville on June 12, last. He had been charged with grand larceny. Robert MacKinnon appeared for Nelson by assignment. Nelson allegedly took the truck which had been parked on a village street with the key in the lock, drove to Monticello and was apprehended on his way back. He was given six months in jail with credit for 99 days already served.

Other cases before Judge Mino were:

Lester Jansen and Kenneth White, charged with third degree burglary; petit larceny and unlawful entry, alleged to have taken place May 30, last, at the Stanley Brown building in Town of Ulster. They are jointly indicted. Robert Ortale appeared for Jansen and Francis Martocci for White. Both cases were adjourned until 10 a. m. Thursday.

Court recessed until 2 p. m.

Gives Up . . .

County community sounded like a battlefield.

All through the night, 30 state troopers and 10 sheriff's deputies had carefully watched and waited for Avery's next move.

Police believed Avery might have fallen asleep after his three-hour shooting spree, which ended at 10 p.m. They decided not to rush the house or use tear gas until dawn.

Avery's wife, with whom he had an argument, and their four children left the house before the wild shooting started.

Police Chief Daniel Bonebrake of nearby Highland Falls, a veteran of Korean fighting and a 25-year Army man, estimated that Avery fired between 200 and 300 shots.

Bonebrake said Avery apparently used an automatic rifle, a single-shot rifle and perhaps a form of burp gun.

Some Rapid-Fire Bursts

Some of the shots apparently were aimed at troopers and sheriff's men near the house. Others were fired into the air from the attic window. Many of the shots were fired into the inside walls. Some shots were rapid-fire bursts.

The scene of the siege is in Orange County and near West Point, about 55 miles northwest of Manhattan.

Bonebrake said that during the firing Avery cried out that the North Korean and Chinese enemy was "attacking." When a friend called to him and urged him to surrender, he told the friend to come up "on higher ground" where he would be safer.

time trading arrangements and political unity.

The communique explained that various Commonwealth leaders had expressed "the economic points of special concern to their respective countries and the extent to which their interests had not so far been met" in the Common Market negotiations.

Key Passage

A key passage of the communique said:

"The prime ministers expressed the readiness of their governments to join in comprehensive international efforts by all available means to expand world trade both in primary products and manufactures.

"They recognized the important contribution which the European Economic Community and other regional groups could make in such efforts.

"They hoped that the general objectives set out above would be shared by the members of the community."

Financial and Commercial

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices eased gently in dull trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .3 at 223.9 with industrials up .1, rails off .6, and utilities down .2.

Most key stocks took fractional losses. Quite a few were unchanged. A few wider losses occurred among the "growth" issues.

The market seemed to be lingering in another watch-and-wait phase after clipping short a moderate rally Tuesday.

There was little response to news that housing starts in August were 5 per cent above the July rate and 15 per cent above the year-earlier level.

A report that the steelworkers union is considering the reopening of current labor contracts to ask for wage increases next year found steels only slightly lower.

Prices of the leading motors, oils, tobaccos, rubbers, and nonferrous metals were unchanged to a bit lower.

Polaroid and IBM dropped about 3 points as profit taking continued on the latest recovery drive of the "growth" issues.

Korvette and Xerox fell more than a point apiece.

Corporate bonds were irregularly lower. U.S. government bonds were unchanged in moderate dealings over the counter.

Javits Gets Full

made up primarily of disgruntled Republicans, will cut into Rockefeller's and Javits' expected pluralities.

But as Javits was nominated by acclaim there were no indications that the Republican organization had backed away from the senior senator from New York.

Among those who rallied to his support were the state's junior senator, Kenneth B. Keating, and the State Senate majority leader, Walter J. Mahoney. Keating and Mahoney have been identified with the Upstate conservative wing of the party.

Following Tuesday night's tumultuous demonstration that turned the floor of the big Memorial Auditorium into a sea of confetti, Javits asserted:

"I am proud—to stand before you as a Republican in the progressive spirit of Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower devoted to the bipartisan foreign policy in the spirit of Arthur Vandenberg and Wendell Willkie; and devoted to housing and education in the spirit of Robert A. Taft."

His campaign, he said, would be guided by "the great traditions the historic policy commitments of our party."

An Ambitious Couple Need Year's Salary Banked

Q) "My wife and I are a young married couple who, over the past two years, have been able to buy a home, put $1,000 in the bank, and accumulate shares of Pacific Gas & Electric, Kratter A, and American Telephone. Would you comment on these stocks and tell us what is the best way to proportion our income among savings accounts and growth stocks?" B. W.

A) It seems to me that you have accomplished a good deal in a short period and I congratulate you warmly.

Both Pacific Gas & Electric and American Telephone are stocks of the highest quality. By the very nature of its business, Kratter is rather speculative, although it is quite possibly the best managed of the real estate companies. I think you can afford some risk, however, and I would hold Kratter.

In your position, I would increase savings to at least the equivalent of a year's income and then concentrate on adding more sound growth issues.

Q) "I am very much confused about the merger of American Chicle with Warner-Lambert. What advantage, if any, will this be to stockholders of American Chicle? If you held the latter stock would you vote to merge?" D. N.

A) Motives behind mergers are frequently confusing. This is particularly true for shareholders in the firm which doesn't survive.

Neither director of these two companies has taken me into his confidence, but I feel quite safe in stating that the reason behind the proposed Warner-Lambert and American Chicle merger can be stated in one word — diversification. Warner's business is largely in drugstore items, and Chicle's is 80 per cent in chewing gum. The combined companies would have a broader base of earnings than either enjoyed prior to a merger. In addition, there are certainly sales, and probably operating economies possible.

If I owned American Chicle, I would go along with the proposal.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Burglary Suspect

a June 12 burglary at Martin's Market, 89 Franklin Street. He had been spotted by Sgt. Thomas Tomshaw on a Furnace Street porch. His record shows he had been in trouble with the police on several other occasions.

A police report at 11:50 p. m. Tuesday said a woman had reported that someone was entering the Herzog store. Sgt. Julius Glassman with Officers Sheldon O'Rourke, William Whalen, Wilmont Hall, Lewis Keator, Raymond Wells, Floyd Krom, and Detectives William Slover and Harold DeGraff were dispatched to the area.

Officers O'Rourke and Whalen were dispatched on the 1:23 a. m. call to the Kingston-Stuyvesant Hotel. At 1:27 a. m. the manager called again for assistance and Sgt. Glassman with Detective Slover and Officer Krom were sent there.

A report at 4:25 a. m. noted that Manfro had been "picked up for questioning" and was taken to the hospital "for treatment of a severe laceration of the right ankle sustained prior to being picked up."

It was then noted that while at the hospital he "went berserk and had to be placed in restraint." Police said County Health Commissioner E. Franklin Hall, was called, and after examining Manfro, committed him to the state hospital. He was conveyed by Fatum ambulance with officers O'Rourke, Keator and Whalen in attendance.

Only a few small kitchen knives were reported missing from the Herzog store and some of them were found near the store on Fair Street. The cash register at Mickey's Beauty Parlor was reported left empty by closing time and nothing was missing from the shop. Entrance was gained through a back door.

A small amount of cash was missing from the cash register at Winter's store and change was reported taken from a register at the Shults Paint Store. Entrance to the latter was gained through a side window.

2 Missing on Flight

WESTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)—The much-decorated commander of Suffolk County Air Force Base and his radar observer were missing today after their jet fighter apparently crashed into the Atlantic off the Eastern tip of Long Island.

The finding of an oil slick, a parachute, a helmet and a survival kit floating on the water prompted an Air Force spokesman to say: "We are assuming the plane is down."

But there was no trace of the pilot, Col. Roy E. Ferguson, 45-year-old commander of the Long Island air base near here, nor his radar observer, 1st Lt. Kenneth D. Daniel, 24.

Their plane, an F-101b Voodoo jet, last made radio contact with the base about 1:20 p.m. Tuesday when the craft was about 40 miles south of Montauk Point.

The missing plane and three other Voodoos had taken off from the base earlier in the day on a routine flight over the ocean.

Politics Bound to Crop Up as Presidents Travel

By ARTHUR EDSON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A president may not have politics uppermost in his mind every time he makes a move. But once the deed is done, it's bound to have, for better or worse, political consequences.

No president has been more aware of this than John F. Kennedy.

Rarely has it been more sharply illustrated than in his trip last week to look over space installations at Huntsville, Ala., Cape Canaveral, St. Louis and here. Especially here.

This was advertised as a nonpolitical jaunt, and, on the surface, it was.

Questions Bob Up

Kennedy dutifully mentioned the space program is bipartisan. He fetched along Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the Senate Space Committee, to prove the GOP has no objections to the United States getting a man on the moon first.

But a few nagging questions kept bobbing up.

How come Kennedy chose to travel at this time? Could it be possible that with Congress still in session, and with Kennedy having no desire to stir up the animals, this was thought to be an ideal way to make news without creating problems?

Could the President, or anyone else without scientific training, assimilate much on such a hurry up journey? A giant Saturn booster rocket, such as he saw at Huntsville, has to be seen and heard and felt—and be scared of—to be believed. But couldn't the President get as much information in one well-written letter, particularly since he's a speed reader?

Does the sight of a president scurrying through a plant or an installation really boost workers' morale. Or is it the morale of the Democratic party that gets the lift?

Stresses the Firsts

This thought was expressed in a cartoon by Jim Berryman of the Washington Evening Star. He drew a Democratic donkey applauding Kennedy and saying: "First in space, first in peace, first in November!"

Kennedy stood to reap a nice harvest of political hay even if it wasn't planned that way.

How can a politician miss if he goes all out for astronauts?

When Kennedy got to Houston all non-political pretense was dropped.

Kennedy said he had invited only top representatives and senators on the space committees. This burned up Rep. Bob Casey, a Democrat in whose home district all the activity was to take place. Casey hasn't been too enthusiastic a New Frontiersman.

"All the earmarks of a slap in the face," Casey cried.

Not so, Kennedy told a news conference.

Kennedy brought along an all-star cast with this road show, including Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas' No. 1 politician, and David E. Bell, Bureau of the Budget director. Bell will have a lot to say about how much money is spent on Houston's Manned Space Center.

This burned up Jack Cox, Republican candidate for governor.

"Political blackmail," he called it.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

Creating in the Cell Block

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska Penitentiary inmates who aspire to become authors or composers are getting a chance to try to market their products.

Warden Maurice Sigler has authorized the convicts to submit original material—such as songs, poetry and novels—to publishers.

A few restrictions apply.

Material must be moral and in good taste.

No real-life penitentiary incidents or personnel may be mentioned.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Received a nice letter and pictures from Cornelius E. Keyser of 100 Grand Street in Kingston. They are picture post cards, one of the steamer Hendrick Hudson and another of the Robert Fulton, both of the Hudson River Day Line.

Another is a view of steamer from the highest elevation, Storm King Highway, along the Hudson River. I take it they are old cards. The view card was published by Ruben, photographer of Newburgh, from whom, my father used to buy postal cards many years ago. I take it the steamer on the picture was the Homer Ramsdell which at the time left Franklin Street at 1 p. m., West 129th Street 1:30 p. m. It connected at Newburgh with a return steamer for New York City. The steamer passed through the Highlands and the famous Storm King Mountains, according to description on card.

Keyser says that they are of the early 1900's. He writes that he is glad that they are now thinking of Kingston Point as a park again. He enjoyed the article by Mrs. Dorothy Chipp King and the Kingston Point Park pictures in the Freeman. These photographs which I think I bought from Bill Longyear's son some time ago pictured the Washington Irving steamer at the point. Keyser writes that the steamer carried some 6,000 people in her day. Her life was very short on the Hudson River as she sank early in her career.

A number of my readers have mentioned the Kingston Point article and pictures, have cut it out and saved it, as have I. The name of the article was "Personal Recollections of Kingston Point" by Dorothy Chipp King, and it appeared in the Freeman on Thursday evening, August 23, 1962 with two pictures.

John A. Weber of 137 Foxhall Avenue quoted his wife saying she is sure those ladies with big hats in the foreground of the Kingston Point picture are related to her. She felt she recognized their hats, and clothes.

From time to time one finds colored picture postal cards of Kingston Point park in collections, like at antique shows. It was a beautifully kept park, with walks and pagoda type rest places overlooking the Hudson. It was free to the public, but at the same time, it was a strict run park, which perhaps was possible for the generations of that period, but would it be possible today, I wonder.

Downing Vaux designed Kingston Point Park in 1897 in three islands in lagoon which were made from dredged material. The bandstand island was one of them called Harmony Island. Samuel D. Coykendall worked with Downing Vaux.

Vaux also designed Downing Park in Newburgh and Riverside Drive in New York City. He lived for several years at our YMCA and died there on May 15, 1926.

There are some men, like Downing Vaux, who bring beauty and pleasure to whatever they touch. Vaux started the park from just swampy ground and decided to dredge it out and make it a canal for boats. Then he found use for the waste material. In the olden days, the park was under the control of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad of which C. Gordon Reel of Rondout was general manager.

It is said, he was an excellent manager, and kept everything shipshape in this park which could easily hold 10,000 people on summer Sundays, and did, when the dayline steamers brought them from up and down the Hudson River.

Little Luncheon Joke

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The luncheon speaker was telling the Manatee County Health Council about some of the newest health products.

For example, he said, there is a new toothpaste that contains food particles. It's for people too busy to eat between brushings.

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

Bert and Harry Piel.

Remember?

The checkered-vested Bert and his more conservative brother, who once managed—and spoke for—the Piels Company . . . have you ever wondered what happened to them?

Well, one day back in 1960 the Piels Company hired an efficiency expert. E. Gordon Gibbs was his name, and his commission was to look over the Piels brewing operation and suggest ways of making it more efficient.

Ousted at 1960 Meeting

No one was prepared to hear the report he made at the 1960 Piels directors' meeting. It remains one of the most controversial proposals in business history. Piels' biggest millstones, he said, are its two spokesmen, President Bert and Secretary Harry Piel. Not only did he deem it undignified for company executives to parade themselves around like sideshow performers, but he seriously questioned their selling efficiency. "The days of flamboyant personal street-corner selling are over," Gibbs said. "To sell beer in today's market Piels must use today's sales methods. The simple fact is that Piels cannot afford the luxury of Bert and Harry any longer."

No Defense Offered

Well, there it was. Bert Piel, a proud man, did not feel he had to defend his record, which he held to be self-evidently excellent. He called for an immediate vote on the issue. The directors, possibly swayed by the glib Gibbs, possibly confused by Bert's silence, voted to adopt the Gibbs proposal by the margin of one vote. Bert and Harry could retain their company offices, but they could not be spokesmen any longer.

Bert wouldn't hear of any such arrangement. For thirty years, he and Harry had given themselves completely to the brewing and selling of Piels. Now they were paid with rejection. Well then, let them have a try at it Gibbs' way. Bert and Harry handed in their resignations and retreated to their summer home on Lake Winnipesaukee to wait.

E. Gordon Gibbs was hired to direct Piels advertising. The Piels commercials you've been seeing for the past two years have been done at his direction.

Piel Brothers Wait

Meanwhile, Bert and Harry wait. It's obvious that while Gibbs is around, Piels will never call them back. There's only one voice that can summon them back now—yours.

Do you want them back?

The time to act is now!

Speeders Clocked

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—During a convention of justices of the peace, state police decided to demonstrate what they argue are three nearly infallible methods of gauging automobile speeds. Radar, electric timers and airplane observations were employed simultaneously to measure car speeds on an airport runway. Officials said the three methods agreed within a mile an hour on cars traveling up to 100 miles an hour.

What the record crop of college students now entangled in the hallowed halls of ivy is experiencing is quite luxurious compared with the life pictured here. This was when the ivy was just sprouting. The year 1962 marks the centennial of the signing by Abraham Lincoln of the Land-Grant College Act which gave thousands of young Americans the opportunity to go to college and brought to an end the traditional narrow view that college doors were open only to the well-born or the wealthy few. Today, 68 land-grant colleges in the 50 states and Puerto Rico enroll 20 per cent of the college population and grant 40 per cent of doctorates in all subjects. Of 40 living American Nobel Prize winners who went to school in this country, 60 per cent of them earned degrees from land-grant schools. Photos are from the archives of the Association of State Universities and Land- Grant Colleges.

Takes Victory in Stride

Ted's Blitz Even Surprises Backers

BOSTON (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, a sensational winner in the Massachusetts Democratic primary, looks like a political natural today, and his backers are predicting that he will drive through in November to a seat in the U.S. Senate.

It is the seat vacated in 1960 by John F. Kennedy when he was elected President.

Ted crushed his opponent for the Democratic nomination, Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., in a blitz that dumbfounded his own supporters no less than McCormack's.

JFK 'Very Pleased'

Shortly after the first returns his headquarters notified President Kennedy at Newport, R. I. "He said he was very pleased," said one of Ted's chief lieutenants.

The younger Kennedy, who is 30 and making his maiden run for elective office, took it all with glacial calm.

By about 10 p.m., some three hours after the polls closed, he was on his way from his Boston apartment to McCormack's headquarters, and then to a frantic, roaring victory celebration at the Touraine Hotel.

As he was hoisted onto the stage in the converted ballroom, he looked like a man who had known all along that it would be like this.

His pretty blonde wife, Joan, stood beside him, fighting a losing battle against tears. She swallowed hard and her voice broke when she tried to speak into the microphones. "I'm so grateful," she choked. "I don't know what else to say."

Debate Boomeranged

His juggernaut victory appears to be the result of four main factors—the Kennedy name in Massachusetts, Ted's natural talent for politics, a precision-engineered organization, and a debate that backfired on his opponent.

Weeks before the election, a Boston politician told this correspondent: "He's got more political savvy already than his brother had in his first campaign. It seems to come more naturally to him than it did to Jack when he was starting."

The younger Kennedy worked hard, driving himself, day and night. He covered the state from end to end. He spoke at five and six rallies a day. His voice gave out toward the end.

Like the President's 1960 campaign, this one was supported by a smooth-working, professional organization, well supplied with money.

One of the key figures on the team is Kennedy's brother-in-law, Stephen Smith. He is married to the former Jean Kennedy.

Smith says the turning point in the campaign began to appear after Kennedy's first televised debate with McCormack. In that appearance, the attorney general told Kennedy that, without the famous name, "your candidacy would be a joke."

"We took some samplings of opinion after the debate," Smith said. "Ted was the underdog before that. But we found people switching. It definitely must have backfired on McCormack."

Think Red Guerrillas Shot Down Helicopter

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —A U.S. Army helicopter that crashed Tuesday injuring four Americans is believed to have been shot down by Communist guerrillas, official sources said today.

The crash occurred in a heavily forested mountain area about 270 miles north of here, near a point where the South Vietnamese, Cambodian and Laotian frontiers meet.

Of the seven persons aboard the turbojet helicopter, three were U.S. military advisers, one was an American civilian from the U.S. aid mission and three were Vietnamese. Names were withheld.

Assails Partial Freeman Ruling On Milk Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — It is "patently unfair" for the secretary of agriculture to set a price on some but not all of the milk in a given area, says a spokesman for five New Jersey milk dealers.

Murray Hammerman, the spokesman, appeared Tuesday at a U.S. Department of Agriculture hearing on proposals to amend the New York-New Jersey milk marketing order. The hearing also concerns the Connecticut milk marketing order.

Hammerman said the companies he represents were required to pay market order prices for milk bought in South Jersey, which is not covered by the New York-New Jersey order.

The U.S. Supreme Court recently struck down a method of compensatory payments for milk produced elsewhere and shipped into a regulated marketing area for sale.

Another witness, Emer C. Flounders of Drexel Hill, Pa., said 14 of the proposals made by large cooperatives in the New York-New Jersey market area would tend to create a greater barrier to the movement of milk than the plan invalidated by the Supreme Court.

Flounders recommended that a handler regulated by one marketing order be allowed to ship milk into another marketing area without restriction.

Abilene Damage Is Million After Violent Storm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thundershowers are expected to return to the wind-and-rain-rocked plains states where a violent thunderstorm caused $1 million damage to Abiline, Kan., Tuesday.

Winds of 70 and 80 miles an hour shrieked through the town of 7,130 late in the day, tumbling trees and power lines and damaging scores of buildings.

Elsewhere in Kansas, Emporia was soaked with 1.9 inches of rain, Concordia with 1.5 inches and Hill City with 1.75 inches.

Twenty-five miles northeast of Kansas City, hail ⅝ inches in diameter rattled down on Holt, Mo., leaving an icy blanket up to one inch thick.

Across the nation in New York State, the fading summer died a little as snowflakes fell with a frigid rain shower near Binghamton. The Weather Bureau said the rain and snow mixture was at least a month early.

Urged to Ask $350,000

Engineers retained by the City of Beacon have been instructed by the City Council members to request $350,000 in federal aid for construction of the proposed $700,000 incinerator slated for completion within two years. City officials noted that additional aid may be requested for construction of the proposed city hall from the $900,000,000 emergency public work program signed into law recently by President Kennedy.

Longest Dry Spell

TOKYO (AP)—Red China said today the Peiping area is suffering its longest dry spell in 40 years.

Radio Peiping said rain has been scanty since July in the region of the Chinese Communist capital. During August, it said, only 1.10 inches of rain fell, less than one-fifth of the average of recent years.

TUPPER LAKE, N. Y. (AP)— Mrs. Frances Walsenann, 50, of Tupper Lake, was injured fatally early today when the automobile in which she was riding skidded off wet pavement on Route 3, nine miles west of this Adirondack community and overturned.

Surgery for Miss Truman

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Mary Jane Truman, sister of former President Harry S. Truman, underwent surgery Tuesday for a back ailment.

Her condition was reported satisfactory today.

ViolatesLaw, BroomeJudge On Tenents

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—A city court judge here calls unconstitutional a new state law that permits cancellation of rent payments made for welfare recipients whose quarters are substandard.

Judge Joseph W. Esworthy decided Tuesday that the law, which became effective July 1, violated the U.S. Constitution in that it deprived landlords of property, in this case money, without due process of law or just compensation.

The law was signed by Gov. Rockefeller with reservations. It allows welfare officials to cancel payments for apartments that are considered hazardous or detrimental to the life or health of the tenants.

The tenants, under the law, may continue to occupy the quarters.

Five landlords brought suit against the City of Binghamton after the city withheld rent payments for 81 tenents. Esworthy made his ruling in the case of Dr. James E. Trozzi, owner of a six-room apartment from which the dentist had sought to evit a tenant for non-payment of rent.

Guilty Plea Is Entered by 4th Holdup Figure

The fourth defendant indicted in connection with the $43,107 armed holdup at the Dover Plains National Bank last April 16, pleaded guilty Tuesday afternoon ending his trial before Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz and a jury.

Perry Patrick Paulding, 20, New York City photography model, changed his plea to guilty yesterday afternoon.

Three other defendants previously pleaded guilty to first degree robbery charges. They were Charles James Cooper, 33, New York City; William T. Maslousky, 20, Hurfville, N. J., and Kenneth David Graham, 29, who resided with Paulding in a Greenwich Village apartment.

Authorities said the four men face prison terms of 10 to 30 years each on the first degree robbery charges.

The money taken from the bank during the daylight robbery was recovered.

Board to Study Transportation Routes at OCS

A disagreement between a board member and the Onteora Central Schools District transportation director over the efficiency of the school's bus transportation system ended in a stalemate at the Board of Education's September meeting.

When a long exchange between Trustee Raymond C. Cruthers and Transportation Director Watson I. Goodrich ended, Board vice president Arthur P. Knight, chairman of the meeting, suggested that the matter be studied to determine if Board policy was in any way responsible for conditions, which, Cruthers said, have resulted in numerous complaints by parents to him.

In opening the discussion, Cruthers said complaints to him charged that it took 90 minutes to transport some pupils from Olive Bridge to the central building at Boiceville. Cruthers identified the run as Route No. 7 (Krumville-Olive Bridge) serviced by the Pine Hill-Kingston Bus Corp. He charged that children were picked up at 7:45 a. m. and riding until 9 or past before they reached Boiceville.

Goodrich said he was unaware of the excessive delays. He admitted that on a couple of occasions the bus may have been delayed, the longest ever being 1 hour and 5 minutes, but he had not been notified of excessive delay as a matter of regular practice.

About Overcrowding

The discussion then centered on the question of overcrowding of school buses. Goodrich said there was no overcrowding on any school run. State Education Law permits a total passenger load (for school purposes) of 20 per cent more than capacity. Thus on a 43-passenger bus the maximum school load with be 54 pupils.

Goodrich said that state police have been conducting checks on various school runs in the county and found no violations in the Onteora district.

Cruthers then raised another question, that of preferential treatment for some pupils with respect to the Board one-mile policy in bus transportation. This stipulates that a pupil must reside more than a mile from a pickup center before it gets door to door transportation. The Olive trustee said there were flagrant abuses of this policy and some pupils living within a short distance of the school were riding the buses daily. In other cases, he said the buses were taking circuitous routes transporting children far out of line en route to the school, thus causing the long delays.

"Either we stick to the one-mile policy for all students or none at all," Cruthers declared.

Study Proposed

When it appeared that the Cruthers-Goodrich discussion had reached a stalemate, Chairman Knight proposed that Goodrich look into the complaints and report back to the board. Trustee Harry Allen also suggested that a board committee review the entire bus situation to determine if present policy is responsible for creating some of the conditions that are causing the complaints.

According to official School Bus Passenger Lists for the 1962-63 school year, Route No. 7's bus will start at the intersection of county highway and Kripplebush-Krumville road at approximately 8 a. m. (Krumville Corners) proceed via county road to Route 213, via 213 to Olive Bridge post office, reverse direction, proceed via 213 to Mill Road, proceed via Mill Road to Acorn Hill Road, thence to Route 28-A, proceed via Route 28-A and Bushkill road to Moon Haw road, turn right to Dry Kill Road intesection, reverse direction to Bushkill road, turn right, proceed to Hanover Mt. Lodge, reverse direction, thence via Bushkill road to Route 28-A, Route 28 to Onteora High and Reginald R. Bennett School, picking up passengers enroute.

Award Onteora Safety Citation

Onteora Central Schools System has been awarded a safety citation by the State Education Department for the excellence of its Pupil Transportation Safety Program which completed an accident-free year in 1961-62.

Transportation Director Watson I. Goodrich presented the citation to the Board of Education at its Monday meeting. Trustee Arthur P. Knight, who served as chairman in the absence of President Philip Gordon, accepted it in behalf of the board and warmly commended the school administration and personnel for achieving the excellent record.

J. James Fairbairn of Shokan read a statement testifying that the 21-room Netherwood School in Hyde Park had been built at a cost of $956,000. This included site purchase, grading and all equipment. Fairbairn sought to have the statement written into the records of the meeting and the Board complied with his request.

The board tabled a bid by Harry F. Ecker to furnish transportation on the school's Lake Hill-Onteora run at a rate of $20.00 per diem. It was noted that school-owned buses are now servicing this run.

Seek Multiple Choices

The board acknowledged receipt of a pettition bearing 11 signatures requesting the Board of Education to offer the voters multiple choices of projects in the forthcoming bond issue. The petition was taken under advisement.

Receipt of the first state aid allotment of $152,688.61 was announced by George Smith, business manager.

Reporting on progress at the proposed West Hurley new school site, Trustee Cruthers said recent test borings indicated there would be a rock problem in the plot of land to be purchased from the City of New York. He said the problem of drainage for the sewage system would also have to be solved. Harry F. Edinger of the Ulster County Health Department discussed several types of systems with Trustee Cruthers, including mechanical. An acre would be needed for drainage but there has been insufficient time to locate the proper area.

Cruthers also stated that the New York City Board of Estimate has not taken any action on the cost of the property. Meantime he indicated that use of mechanical equipment for sewage treatment at the West Hurley site might boost the normal cost approximately $11,000.

W. Hurley P-TA Will Select New President

"Let's Get Acquainted" is the theme of the opening meeting of the West Hurley P-TA, Sept. 25, at 8 p. m. in the school's multipurpose room. A business meeting will be held at which time a new president will be elected to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Lloyd K. Collins, who has been appointed to the Onteora Board of Education.

Mrs. Richard Gray, program chairman, will present the calendar of P-TA programs for the 1962-63 school year.

The new teachers on the West Hurley faculty will be introduced as follows: Mrs. Glenda Hess, kindergarten; Miss Jo Ann Bianco, first grade; Mrs. Alice Van Wagner, 2nd grade; Mrs. Allison Hansen, third grade; Paul Bierwisch, fourth grade; and Fred Reinhardt, sixth grade.

Brief speeches on their own particular subject area will be presented as each of the following special teachers is introduced: Mrs. Nancy Angeloch, library; Mrs. Mary Caughey, speech; Mrs. Carol Larsen, reading; Mrs. Gladys Plate, art; David Rattner, instrumental music; Mrs. Elizabeth Rose, nurse; Mr. Andrew Shekitka, physical education; and Mrs. Katie Stowe, vocal music.

If time permits, Mrs. Erne Levins, principal of the West Hurley School, will discuss the double session program.

Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Marlin Klinger, membership chairman and committee are currently conducting their membership drive and are enrolling members into the West Hurley P-TA. The membership committee will also be in attendance at the meeting.

Fourth Annual Crafts Show Has Preview Friday

The Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen will present its fourth annual Crafts Show, beginning with an invitation preview on Friday at 8 p. m.

On Saturday, following the awards by the Woodstock Crafts Foundation of $100 for the best professional work and $25 for the finest student work, the show will be open to the public with daily hours of 1 to 5 p. m.

Judging the show are three outstanding crafts authorities—Beatrice Harrison, former among silversmith and teacher of Detroit; Dr. Ernest Ziegfield, who has the distinction of being one of the few American craftsmen to be invited to exhibit at the Brussels World's Fair; and Alice Adams, tapestry weaver and teacher at the Museum of Modern Art and Manhattan College, New York City.

The public is invited and there is no admission charge for the show.

Fall Church School Opens at St. Gregory

Isabel Doughty, president, will present her report on the activities of the year just completed and the various chairmen will give their annual reports.

Several new members will be elected to the Board of Trustees. An interesting agenda has been prepared and president Doughty requests the presence of all members. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Christian Science Sermon Theme: Matter

What changing one's standpoint can mean in meeting today's challenges will be brought out at Christian Science Church services Sunday in Woodstock.

"Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world" is the Golden Text from the Bible (I John 2). It keynotes a Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Matter."

One of the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "When understanding changes the standpoints of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of Life, the control of Soul over sense, and we shall perceive Christianity, or Truth, in its divine Principle" (p. 322). Sunday services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Woodstock begin at 11 a. m.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Jane Lee is co-chairman of the Lexington Junior League horse show. But she says she hasn't been close to a horse since she was 13 years old. She's allergic to them.

Reminder of Autumn

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—A reminder that autumn begins at 8:35 a.m. Sunday:

Summer snowflakes were scattered in a rain shower that fell Tuesday at the Broome County Airport near this city in the south-central part of the state.

The Weather Bureau said such a rain-snow mixture usually does not occur until mid-October.

Saranac Inn Is Sold With Links For $189,250 Bid

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—The 100-year-old Saranac Inn, 10 cottages and a 200-acre golf course brought a total of $189,250 at an auction Tuesday.

The inn, long a popular Adirondack resort, was sold to Ralph Bowles of Deland, Fla., for $75,000. It contains 276 rooms.

At the turn of the century, the hotel was a summer playground for members of society. President Grover Cleveland spent his honeymoon there.

The inn remained closed this summer for the first time in its history, and businessmen here estimated they lost $1 million in purchases by guests and employes.

Harry S. Littman, a Washington, D.C., lawyer, paid $48,000 for the golf course on the hotel grounds. Several individual buyers purchased the cottages for a total of $66,250.

Included in the property bought by Bowles were the inn, nine acres of land, 1,200 feet of beachfront on Saranac Lake, and 21 other buildings.

Littman said he would continue to operate the golf course and would improve it.

The property was sold by Charles Vosburgh of Cortland, an auctioneering firm that bought it for an undisclosed sum in July from Fields Hotels Inc. of New York City.

Deaths

KONNERSREUTH, Germany (AP)—Therese Neumann, 64, an almost legendary figure among Catholics, died Tuesday of a heart ailment. With the exception of 1951, Miss Neumann has appeared to enter a trance on Good Friday of each year and suffer the agonies of Christ on the cross, with blood apparently streaming from her eyes and hands.

CHICAGO (AP) — Jefferson G. Ish, 74, died Tuesday in a hospital after collapsing, apparently from a heart attack. Ish was vice chairman of the board of the Supreme Oil Co., a member of the Illinois Public Aid Commission and a member of an advisory board to the Small Business Administration.

Why We Say--

THEY REALLY DID IT: This expression started in the 16th century when people dressed in clothes with wide sleeves (particularly in the royal court.) To hide offensive laughing, they would put the whole sleeve over their heads.

Visiting a Young Man's Family

Q: I have been going with a young man for a year and a half. We are not officially engaged but I am presently wearing his college class pin. His family live in another state and I have not as yet met them. My boy friend would like very much to have me meet them and has suggested that I go with him soon to spend a few days with them.

My parents have strongly advised me against this since an official engagement does not exist. They claim it is not proper to visit my future in-laws without a "diamond on my left-hand-ring-finger." My boy friend is still going to college and cannot afford to buy me an engagement ring at this time. Must this fact hinder and thus put off meeting and visiting his family?

A: In the first place, a ring is not necessary in order to be engaged, and even if you are not engaged it will be quite proper to spend a few days with the young man's parents if you are invited to do so by his mother.

A Typewritten Signature

Q: When using the typewriter to write a letter to a friend, may the signature also be typed, or must one sign the letter by hand?

A: Always sign letters by hand. A typed signature is very rude. The only occasion when it is permissible is when it is printed below a hard-to-read signature, for information.

Groom's Father as Best Man

Q: My fiance's father is serving as best man at our wedding. He asked me to find out from you whether or not he should give his father a present.

A: Yes, I think he should. His father will surely be pleased to receive something he can use or wear that will remind him of his important part in the wedding.

Russian Dancer Is Happily Married; Theatrical Family

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — She's the star of the Bolshoi Ballet, and audiences go wild over her.

Her private life makes her just as happy. Married to a talented young composer for five years, she can't imagine what could make them quarrel.

What's there left for her to wish for?

Maya Plisetskaya fluttered her hands and replied through an interpreter: She wants to dance "Giselle," considered the Hamlet of the ballet.

And she wants something new, something that's never been performed before, created for her.

Undoubtedly the first will happen in time. Why can't her husband, Rodion Shchedrin, bring about the second?

"My husband can write excellent music, but I cannot find a libretto."

She explained their happy relationship: "If he were a partner, for instance, there would always be something—such as, he didn't hold me up properly. This way—he composes and I dance — we complement each other."

They're together most of the time. In the Soviet Union he's with her in the theater or at their home outside Moscow. Here in New York, where the ballet company is appearing before starting a cross-country tour, the couple can be found most late afternoons sitting unnoticed in their hotel bar sharing a beer.

She has plenty of family around. Her two brothers are dancers in the company, and her uncle is the famous choreographer and ballet master Asaf Messerer. She comes from a well known theatrical family and her mother, a motion picture actress, is still active in Moscow.

Maya Plisetskaya, who's been dancing since she was 9, dazzles audiences with regal beauty, incredible grace and dramatic intensity. But away from the stage she has a placid, well-scrubbed look that bears out her reputation for being one of the most even-tempered in the business.

B'nai B'rith Women Will Install 36 New Members at Dinner Meeting on Sept. 26

The cast for B'nai B'rith Women's first musical sketch of the season has been completed, according to Mrs. Kenneth Barnes, co-producer. The event will be the feature attraction of the group's dinner meeting slated for Wednesday, Sept. 26 at 7:30 in the Skytop Restaurant's "Champagne Room."

The talent for the show called "The B.B.W. Pinafore," includes the Mmes. Harry Simon, John Levy, Fred Strauss, Jerome Simon, Sam Levine, Arnold Pinsly, Seymour Werbalowsky, Charles S. Ronder and Seymour Semilof. Mrs. Leonard Zimet will provide the accompaniment with music supplied by Harry Simon. Co-chairing the event with Mrs. Barnes are Mrs. Harvey Kronick and Mrs. Willard Goodheim.

Members are urged to contact Mrs. Marvin Millens or Mrs. Morton Cohen for reservations, deadline Monday, Sept. 24, since a record turnout is expected. A full-course dinner featuring a choice of London broil or fish will be served.

Another highlight on the evening's agenda will be a short but dramatic induction ceremony honoring the chapter's 36 new members. The following women will receive gold membership pins and corsages during the ceremony. The Mmes. Harry Simon, Fred Strauss, Willard Goodheim, Bernard Dolin, Ben Suskind, Sheldon Levy, William Zang, Jack Sheinvold, Murray Fletcher, Melvin Kelman, Arthur London, Marvin Millens, Helen Dinerstein, Ben Sklon, John Levy, Leon Halpern, Kenneth Barnes, Melvin Navy, Clifford Speisman, Al Camhi, Sidney Black, Myron Kutcher, Alvin Landesman, Gilbert Adin, William Buchbinder, Rachel Adler, Kermit Schwarz, Herbert Lyons, Herman Gardlin, Oscar Gollop, Herman Schneider, Jerry Greenberg, Irving Harris, Jerry Cohen, Alex Gersh and Miss Dorothy Shapiro.

Mrs. Arnold Pinsly, membership chairman, is in charge of the induction.

Nearly 20 families from Kingston took advantage of crisp fall weather and sunny skies last week when the B'nai B'rith Hudson Valley Council held its first picnic at Camp High Point, West Shokan. Mrs. Robert A. Ronder, Kingston chapter president, announced the day was an unqualified success with families from 13 chapters and lodges enjoying baseball, volley ball, ping pong, tennis, loafing and eating.

The chapter board meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 20 at the home of Mrs. Harry Flamm, Northfield St.

Debrosky-Van Etten Wedding Announced; Ceremony Takes Place at St. Peter's Church

On Saturday, Sept. 8 at 11 a. m., marriage vows were exchanged by Nona Mae Debrosky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Debrosky of Tillson, and David Bruce Van Etten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cortland Van Etten of Lake Katrine. Officiating for the double ring ceremony was the Rev. W. Zochak.

White gladioli decorated the church for the occasion. Music was provided by Mr. and Mrs. James Sweeney.

Mr. Debrosky gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of rosepoint Chantilly lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a scalloped Sabrina neckline. The full skirt swept into a chapel length circular train. Her veil of silk illusion was gathered to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Fuji mums.

The bride's sister served as maid of honor in a full length mint green gown. The bodice was fashioned with a bateau neckline with cap sleeves and bell skirt. A matching crown of pearls held a short circular veil. She carried a bouquet of Fuji mums.

Attendants were Mrs. Ann Debrosky of High Falls, the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ann Recken of Highland, Mrs. Joann Moroney of Yonkers and Miss Beth Marie Debrosky of Tillson, the bride's sister.

All wore gowns styled identically to that worn by the honor attendant except in capuccine color. They carried cascades of matching flowers with white carnations.

Phillip Van Etten of Saugerties was best man for his brother. Ushers were Glenn Debrosky, the bride's brother; Robert Whitmore of Kingston; Ronald Menard of Utica; and Master Wayne Debrosky, brother of the bride.

A reception was given in Sportsmen's Park for approximately 120 guests.

For her wedding trip to Thousand Islands, Canada, the bride wore an olive green ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Van Etten is a graduate of Kingston High School and the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing where she is employed. Her husband was graduated from Kingston High School and Union University, Albany College of Pharmacy. He is employed by Dedrick's Pharmacy in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Etten will reside in Tillson.

Modena Robbery Case Jury Being Selected for Trial

Selection of a jury to hear the evidence in the robbery, assault and larceny charge against Claude Henderson, who allegedly was involved in the robbery at the Handy store in Modena last May 2, was taken up Monday afternoon in County court and continued through Tuesday.

Henderson, 27, comes from Pine Island, Orange County, and is one of three who allegedly held up and robbed Mr. and Mrs. Paul Handy. The trio allegedly assaulted Mr. and Mrs. Handy and took about $80 from the cash register.

Handy at the time alleged three men entered the store and appeared to be customers. Then one of the men took a bottle of beer and struck him on the head breaking the bottle. Handy also charged the man struck him with a bat or club which had apparently been brought to the store and also struck him with a chair.

Handy was taken to Vassar Hospital and treated for scalp and body injuries. A second man allegedly struck Mrs. Handy in the face with a hammer while a third man rifled the cash register. Mrs. Handy ran into the street and shouted for help. Michael Kalamuscki, a nearby resident, called troopers.

Henderson and Richard Cobb, 16, also of Pine Island, were arrested the following day. Cobb later indicted for robbery, assault and petit larceny, had his case disposed of under the Youthful Offender statute. Joseph Gordon, a third man was picked up later by police officials.

Charles Saccoman appears for Henderson.

Other cases moved by District Attorney David W. Corwin before County Judge Raymond J. Mino Monday were.

Elisa K. Ringwood, charged with first degree grand larceny arising out of an alleged larceny at the Factory Outlet Appliance Company premises in Town of Ulster alleged to have taken place between October 12, 1960 and April 6, 1961, entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny and bail was continued pending sentence on September 26 at 2 p. m. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant.

Must Pay $92

Margaret Hall, 25, charged with second degree forgery, entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny and was given a suspended six-month jail sentence on condition she pay a $92 balance on restitution.

Ralph Willard Rice, charged with malicious mischief, possession of burglar tools and attempted petit larceny, entered a plea of guilty to attempted unlawful entry on July 11 at the Beichert gas station where $260 damage was reported done. Robert Ortale appeared for defendant. Sentence will be imposed later.

Robert John Hotaling, charged with forgery, second degree, for alleged forging of a $40 check on State of New York National Bank signed by Agnes N. Muller and dated June 31, 1962, had his case moved over to September 24 at 2 p. m. on motion of his attorney John Wilkie. Hotaling entered a plea of innocent.

Anton Hoffman, charged with second degree forgery for the alleged forging of a check drawn on the Rondout National Bank last March 5, entered a plea of not guilty and was remanded to jail. The case was adjourned to September 24. Bernard A. Feeney Jr., appears for Hoffman.

Keen Stoutenburg, 21, Woodstock, charged with second degree rape involving a 14-year-old girl, was sentenced to Elmira State Reformatory. Execution of sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation. John Gotelli appeared for Stoutenburg and asked for leniency. Bail was exonerated.

Bernard John McGrath, 27, Cliffside, N. J., charged with third degree arson, burglary, third degree, and illegal possession of a firearm, alleged to have taken place April 10, last; at the Harold Harris place in Town of New Paltz, had his case adjourned to September 20 at 10 a. m. after pleading to third degree burglary. W. J. Ryan appeared for McGrath.

Gets Credit for Time

David France, 39, Woodstock, charged with attempted third degree burglary and attempted unlawful entry on May 2, last, at Fred's Liquor Store, Woodstock, entered a plea of guilty to attempted unlawful entry and was given 116 days in jail, the period he has served. Credit was given for the time. Robert Ronder appeared for defendant. France, while being sentenced by Judge Mino admitted his difficulty came from too much drinking. He said he was taking the pledge not to drink again. Judge Mino said he "accepted" the pledge and reminded France to observe it.

In the case of Richard Lindhart Mayr, charged with third degree burglary, petit larceny and unlawful entry at May's Superette, O'Neil Street, on July 12, last, he said Seymour Werbalowsky had withdrawn and he asked the Court to assign an attorney. Joseph Hill was assigned and the case set down for September 24 at 2 p. m. The same action was taken in a second degree charge involving entrance to the Cut Rate Drug store.

John Joseph Manfro, was arraigned on a charge of third degree burglary, petit larceny and unlawful entry at Martin's Market, Kingston, June 12, and also under an indictment charging second degree assault; attempting to prevent an officer from performing his duty and also resisting an officer on July 19, last. Manfro said Seymour Werbalowsky no longer represented him and he would get an attorney. Bail was continued and the case set down for September 24.

Moved Over Term

A second case on the calendar involving Robert Joseph Fenton Jr., a charge of first degree assault, alleged to have taken place June 17, 1962, was moved over the term. Francis Marticci appears for Fenton. Bail was continued .

Several other criminal matters were moved over to future dates.

A civil action in which a jury had been selected was announced settled. The action was one for breach of warranty brought by DeWitt Day against Hans Hamm. Howard C. St. John appeared for plaintiff and Schirmer and Carnright for defendant. The case was settled during the noon recess.

Newspapermen Free of Contempt For Court Story

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The publisher and three editors of the Syracuse Post-Standard have been cleared of contempt-of-court indictments handed up by a grand jury probing conditions in Onondaga County jails.

Judge Donald H. Mead of County Court, in dismissing the indictments Tuesday, said a story published in the Post-Standard July 19 was "in no manner critical of the court nor did it in any way tend to impede the fair administration of justice."

Named in the indictments were Publisher Henry H. Keller, Managing Editor Mario Rossi, City Editor John N. Whitney, and News Editor Loren Bailey.

The indictments accused them of publishing a "false and grossly inaccurate report of the proceedings of the Onondaga County Court."

New Paltz Gridders Seeking 5th Straight UCAL Title

Huguenots Open Saturday Minus 13 Performers

After running roughshod over the rest of the UCAL League the past four seasons, New Paltz Central may see some rough times this year. However, despite the loss of 13 regulars and three other letter winners, Coach Bill Russell is still optimistic about his team's chances of winning a fifth straight title.

The Huguenots have captured the title twice outright and have tied for the top spot on two other occasions in the past four seasons. The team will also be putting a 14-game unbeaten string (including three ties) on the line when it hosts Millbrook Saturday.

Quarterback Biff Longfield (Syracuse), center Glenn Moore (Utah State), and Ken Freer (Buffalo), fullback George Bond (Dartmouth) halfback Valky Van Valkenburg (C. W. Post), halfbacks Ed Kreuscher, Tom Weisz, and Ed Guidi; tackle John Mars; guards Dick Phillips and Chet Decker and end Carl Reed and John Keator are no longer around. Also missing are reserves John Langwick, Ed Koltzberger and John Williams.

However, all is not dismal at New Paltz. Halfback Clayt Whitted, a speedy ball carrier, returns and he's tough to bring down. Tackle Rich Hoffman is also back and he's a solid performer. Returning letter winners include quarter-back Jim Lynch, who may be switched to fullback; Lee Robbins, offensive halfback who will change to end; Frank Arias, defensive center and tackle John Savago.

Several Jayvee players from 1961 expected to augment the squad. They include ends Scott Yaeger and Wade Burkhardt, back John McDowell, guards Jerry Sullivan, Tony Allessi and Nick Tozzi and center Joe Mars.

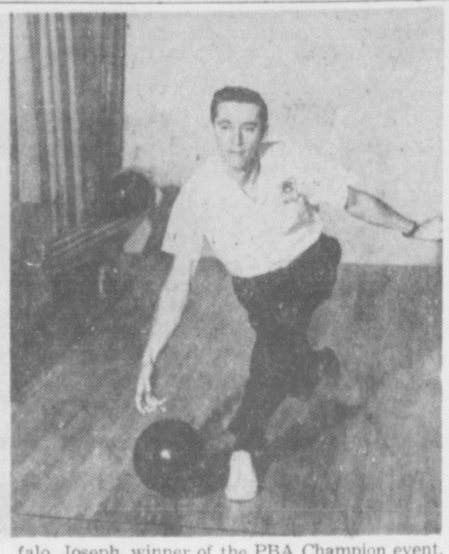

Tony Gonagura, a 175-pound speedster, figures to win a starting halfback post. He will team with Lynch and Whitted to give the Huguenots three hard running backs.

The schedule:

Date	Opponent	Where
Sept. 22	Millbrook	Home
Sept. 29	*Liberty	Home
Oct. 6	Minisink Valley	Away
Oct. 13	*Rondout Valley	Home
Oct. 20	*Wallkill	Away
Oct. 27	*Pine Bush	Home
Nov. 3	*Onteora	Away
Nov. 10	*Marlboro	Away

NEW DOUBLES CHAMPIONS—Winning their final seven games, Detroit bowlers Joe Joseph, left, and Billy (G) Golombiewski captured the 1962 BPAA National Doubles in Buffalo. Joseph, winner of the PBA Champion event, and Billy G, twice ABC Masters king, won a total of 22 games and lost only 10 in the 32-game finals.

Charlie Smith Gains Stature In U.S. Amateur

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Chunky Charlie Smith, rated somewhere in the middle of the pack in pre-tournament favorite ratings moved into today's double round program of the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship with increased stature.

He has been the hottest player of the first two rounds of the 62nd annual tournament. He's polished off two opponents with the loss of only one hole and has been five under par for 25 holes over the 7,051-yard, par 72 No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Smith, from Gastonia, N.C., drew as his morning third round opponent a rugged customer in husky Ed Tutwiler of Charleston, W.Va., 10-time champion of his state.

Only three former champions remained in the field, headed by Harvie Ward of San Francisco, who won in 1955-56. The others were Dick Chapman of Osterville, Mass. (1940) and Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., (1960), who both won Tuesday after first round byes.

Still in contention for the two 18-hole matches today were Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C.; collegian Homero Blancas of Houston, Tex.; British amateur champion Bob Davies of Pasadena, Calif.; Dick Sikes, public links champ from Springdale, Ark.; and Dr. Ed Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., all on the list of "possibles" before the firing began.

Joining them was a stable of dark horses off their efforts in early play. This group included Marion Methvin of Little Rock, Ark.; Jim Tom Blair of St. Louis; Jay Sigel of Philadelphia and Wake Forest College; Ed Justa, former University of North Carolina player from Rock Mount, N.C., and Dick Norville of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Dodgers Lose Third Straight

Still Lead SF By 3½ Games; Wills Gets 93rd

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A hot team forced the cooled-off Los Angeles Dodgers to take a backward step in their march toward the National League pennant —but it isn't likely the Dodgers are too upset.

Despite that third straight loss they still have a 3½-game lead over the idle San Francisco Giants. More importantly, that crick in left-hander Johnny Podres' long-aching back apparently isn't serious.

Led by the Aaron boys, the Milwaukee Braves trounced the Dodgers 10-5 Tuesday night. Hank Aaron socked his 40th homer and a double. Younger brother Tommie weighed in with a double and two singles as the Braves won their fifth straight and the seventh in their last eight starts.

Podres, who has had chronic back trouble through his nine-season career with the Dodgers, had to leave in the sixth inning when his back stiffened. With his other prize southpaw, strikeout artist Sandy Koufax, on the sidelines with a sore finger and with his relief staff heavily burdened, Los Angeles manager Walt Alston had a bad scare, but he was relieved when Podres' ailment was diagnosed as temporary.

Maury Wills salvaged something out of the setback with his 93rd stolen base. That put the Dodger dash man just three shy of the major league record set by Ty Cobb in the 154-game season of 1915.

Third-place Cincinnati picked up a length in the race by beating out Pittsburgh 7-4 with a three-run uprising in the 10th inning, leaving the Reds 4½ back of the Dodgers and one behind San Francisco.

Houston downed the last-place New York Mets twice, 6-2 and 8-6, and the Chicago Cubs dealt St. Louis its seventh loss in a row, 4-3.

Eddie Kasko delivered Cincinnati's deciding run with a 10th-inning single against Pittsburgh and the Reds added insurance on a error and Frank Robinson's single. Cincinnati forced it into overtime in the ninth on a bases-loaded wild pitch by Jim Gibbon.

Robinson's triple and two singles gave him a three-point edge —.343 to .340—over Tommy Davis of the Dodgers in their duel for the batting title.

The Colts helped the Mets to an unwanted big league record in their second game when Merritt Ranew and rookie Dave Roberts homered. That made 189 homers against Met pitching this season for a new one-season high, breaking by two the previous mark set by Kansas City in 1956.

Rookie Paul Toth chucked the Cards on three hits through eight innings as the Cubs built a 4-1 lead but couldn't finish. He yielded a single to Julian Javier, a homer to Stan Musial and a single to Bill White before giving way with two out in the ninth to Barney Schultz who retired Ken Boyer on a pop up.

Australian Upset Win Ties America's Challenge Series

By CHARLES FLOOD

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Has American skipper Bus Mosacher met his match in Australian helmsman Jock Sturrock?

This was a question that stunned Americans and delirious Australians were pondering today after the upset victory by the Australian challenger, Gretel, Tuesday over the American defender Weatherly which knotted the America's Cup series at one race each.

While the Aussies were celebrating American tacticians reviewed the race with a fine-tooth comb and came up with the conclusion that Sturrock, a 46-year-old lumber company executive from Melbourne, is a whale of a match racer. He outmaneuvered the 41-year-old Mosbacher from White Plains, N.Y., on every point of sailing—and Mosbacher has been acclaimed the world's best.

At the start, Sturrock turned Mosbacher's favorite tactic against him by chasing him from behind.

The red-haired American usually is the one to terrorize opponents from astern before the start. This time Sturrock chased Mosbacher downwind away from the starting line, leaving him in a corner. The American skipper had to cross the extreme leeward end of the line, with Sturrock blanketing him from a favorable windward position.

Gretel won the race—a 24-nautical-mile triangular test—by 47 seconds, in the elapsed time of 2 hours 46 minutes 58 seconds. It was the fastest time for a triangular course record, by a 12-meter in an America's Cup race.

Today is a "lay day," a day off from racing requested by the Australians. The third race is scheduled Thursday over a 24-mile windward—leeward course.

Horse Show

The tenth annual horse show for the benefit of Pioneer Engine Co. No. 1 of Ellenville will be held Sunday, Sept. 23, starting at 10 a. m., rain or shine, at the Hugh Kelly Farm, Route 209, one mile south of Ellenville.

GRETEL BEATS WEATHERLY—Australia's Gretel crosses the finish line ahead of the Weatherly (top) to even up the America's Cup yachting series at one victory each. The races will resume off Newport, R. I., Sept. 20. (NEA Telephoto)

Mantle Hits Pair for Yankees

Slugger Leads AL Champs to 7-1 Decision

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

They're getting down to champagne drinking time in the American League. And the New York Yankees, who've popped a few corks in their day, may have administered the knockout blow to their closest pursuers by slipping them a Mickey.

The Mickey would be Mickey Mantle, the slugging, but still-hobbled center fielder of the defending world champions, who tagged Tom Cheney for two homers and drove in five runs as the Yankees whipped Washington 7-1 Tuesday night.

The victory for the Yankees, trying to nail down their 12th flag in 14 years, reduced their magic pennant-clinching number to six over second-place Minnesota.

The Twins lost ground by losing to Detroit 2-1 as Jim Bunning allowed only five hits in eight innings, stranding 11 base runners and turning back Minnesota four times with the tying run as far as second base.

The third-place Los Angeles Angels continued to stagger, losing their sixth straight, 5-2 to Baltimore, and falling 7½ games back with 10 games remaining. The Yankees and Twins each have nine games to play.

Ruin Wynn's Bid

Boston ruined Early Wynn's bid to get his 300th victory, belting him for 12 hits and eight runs in five innings en route to a 10-5 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. Kansas City won its sixth straight, 6-1 over Cleveland.

The Orioles got the job done with three runs in the fourth inning after an error by Angels starter Bo Belinsky (9-11) opened the door. Brooks Robinson followed with a double and Dick Williams was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. John Powell drove in two runs with a single, and one out later Marv Breeding knocked in what turned out to be the game-winner with a single. Chuck Estrada (9-15) won it with ninth-inning relief help from Dick Hall and Billy Hoeft.

The A's broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth on doubles by Ed Charles and Wayne Causey before breaking it open with four runs in the eighth. Causey and Gino Cimoli each stroked three hits in support of Dan Pfister (4-13). Jim Perry (11-12) lost it.

Cadets, Penn State Picked to Score Wins

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—For the past three months it has been homers vs. shutouts; for the past six weeks it has been par vs. birdies. But for the next three months it will be punts vs. passes.

Here is the first batch of college football predictions. There will be more to come but never again will there by a clean slate with which to start.

The picks:

Southern California over Duke: Each team is the title favorite in its loop. Each team has two quarterbacks. Each team has special reasons for wanting victory in this contest. But the Trojans wind up with one more touchdown.

Texas Christian over Kansas: Sonny Gibbs to engineer another of the upsets that dominates this series.

Army over Wake Forest: The Cadets, now three teams strong, march to victory over one of the Atlantic Coast Conference's weaker sisters.

Oklahoma over Syracuse: The Sooners have back only two starters from a year ago but don't weep for them. And there no longer is an Ernie Davis at Syracuse.

Washington over Purdue: Charlie Mitchell is as good a back as there is in the country. The Boilermakers have an awesome defense but Mitchell will find the way.

Texas over Oregon: The state of Texas is three times as large as the state of Oregon. By that reasoning, they should have three times as many football players.

Missouri over California: Keith Weber, hurt much of last year, comes into his own as the Missouri quarterback.

Penn State over Navy: Dave Robinson heads a defensive aggregation that will scuttle the Sailors.

Alabama over Georgia: Graduation and injuries have changed the Alabama Crimson Tide to a light pink wave but Bear Bryant still directs the team.

Georgia Tech over Clemson: Dave Watson and Rufus Guthrie give the Yellowjackets the best set of guards in the South.

Louisiana State over Texas A&M: Two old powerhouses, each with a new coach. Charles McClendon, new LSU mentor, has the better horses and thus gets the nod.

Oregon State over Iowa State: The rejuvenated Iowans haven't quite enough, despite the presence of Dave Hoppmann, the nation's leading ground gainer of last season.

Tony Pizzarelli Bags Hole-in-1

Anthnoy (Tony) Pizzarelli of West Hurley got that first hole-in-one all golfers dream about in the Woodstock Country Club men's member-member championship.

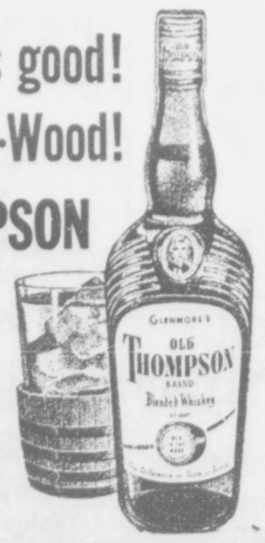

The Ulster Tool & Die executive aced the 145-yard, par-3 4th hole with a superb 5-iron shot. The ball landed on the green, took one bounce, straightened out and rolled into the cup.

The ace was witnessed by Dr. Arnold Broggi, Robert Cook and Bob Flanagan.

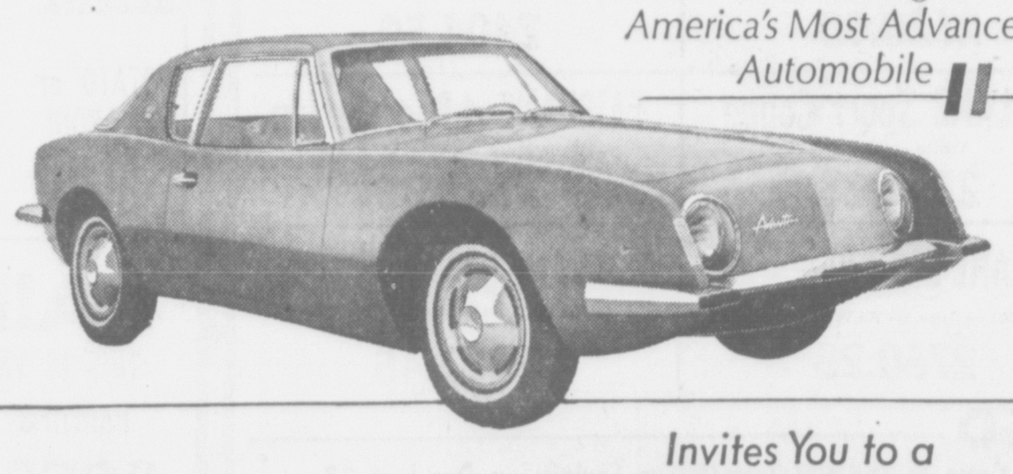

Daily Double 8:50. General admission $2.00. Racing rain or shine. Heated grandstand areas. Children under 18 not admitted. Quickway exit 104. For group arrangements, reservations, travel information call Mont. 2900.

Army at Home Saturday, Meets Wake Forest Gridders

WEST POINT — The 1962 Army football season gets underway at Michie Stadium on Saturday with the cadets playing host to Wake Forest. A crowd upwards of 20,000 is expected to see the second game between the two schools. The cadets won the first engagement 54 to 0 in 1945.

There are changes galore in the Army grid machine including a new coach, a new East Stand in the stadium and an entire new look on the field.

Coach Paul Dietzel is the central figure in the new look. He will be unveiling his first squad as head coach at West Point. To the fans the setting will be new with the East Stand transformed from a temporary bleacher setup to a structure of concrete and steel that conforms in design to the original horseshoe.

Dietzel will be unveiling his heralded unit system for the first time in the East. Playing under the trade names of the Regulars, Chinese Bandits and Go team, the three units will see action against the Deacons and possibly play in each period.

The Regulars will start and play the first eight minutes of each period. They will be spelled by either the Bandits or the Go team depending on ball possession.

Has Several Veterans

Dietzel is building the team around several key veterans and a sprinkling of new men. Returning players who figure strongly in the new coach's scheme are team captain John Ellerson, right end; Joe Blackgrove, quarterback; Ray Paske, fullback; Dick Nowak, center; and Chet Kempinski, guard.

Newcomers who have been doing well in the pre-season intra-squad scrimmages include backs John Seymour, John Johnson and Carl Stitchweh, and linemen Bill Sherrell and Bill Zadel.

The Demon Deacons are guided by Coach Billy Hildebrand who is now in his third season as head man at the Winston-Salem campus. The former Mississippi State end has a total of 14 lettermen available including four starters. The regulars include halfback Donnie Frederick, the team's leading scorer; center Farrell Egge and guards Bill Shendow and Bob Irwin.

The Deacons will rely on sophomore John Mackovic at quarterback. Two other sophs are in the starting backfield including fullback Brian Piccolo and halfback, Sam Green.

Mrs. Feeney's 31 Tourney Winner

Mrs. Bernard Feeney, Jr., carded a 4-under-par net 31 to place first in the women's handicap tournament at The Twaalfskill Club. She had 51 gross and 20 strokes handicap allowance.

Runnerup was Mrs. George Rusk with 43-9-34. Other scores: Mrs. John Purvis, 49-13-36; Mrs. Ernest Schirmer, 47-10-37; Mrs. Elizabeth Chilson, 45-8-37; Mrs. Bernard Feeney, Sr., 48-11-37; Mrs. Hugh R. Elwyn, 51-13-38; Mrs. Edward Minasian, 50-10-40; Mrs. Edwin O'Reilly, 52-11-41.

In last week's Ladies' Day tournament, Mrs. Hugh R. Elwyn led with a 44-13-31 net.

Alex Gerlak, Twaalfskill reports that $423.00 has been collected for the annual caddies banquet and prizes, with funds still coming in.

Five Veterans Set at Wallkill

With only three seniors on a squad of 32, Wallkill Central grid coach Jack Higgins is rebuilding and hoping the youngsters will improve as the season progresses. There are 12 juniors, nine sophomores and eight freshmen on the team.

Returning lettermen are Ed Mooney, a triple threat quarterback; Larry Martinez and the Mullen boys — Dennis and Ronnie. The others have played either jayvee ball or have no experience at all.

Crackers Call On Ray Sadecki

ATLANTA (AP) — Southpaw Ray Sadecki will mount the hill for the Atlanta Crackers tonight in an attempt to stem Jacksonville's push toward the International League playoff crown.

The Suns nipped the Crax 7-6 Tuesday night at Jacksonville to take a commanding 2-0 lead in the four-of-seven series.

Jacksonville, regular season champs, will counter with its top righthanded gunner, Ron Taylor, as the series moves to Atlanta for the next three games, if necessary.

Mike De La Hoz' single in the bottom of the ninth drove home the winning run Tuesday. The rap gave reliefer Ed Bauta, third Atlanta hurler, the loss. Ted Abernathy, who relieved Suns starter Joe Schaffernoth in the eighth, was the winner.

Liberty Gridders Debut Saturday

Liberty Central, playing its second season of football in the Ulster County League, will debut Saturday in a non-league encounter at Minisink Valley. The Indians from Sullivan County had a 6-2 record last year and were 5-1 in the league, losing only to New Paltz.

They include Lynn Bradley and Richard Pelsan at end; tackle Ed Kraycer; guards Leslie Bryan, Wayne Mullally and Mike Wale; centers Tom Finn and Reg Sorroco; quarterback Elliot Sackler; halfbacks Warren Earl and Dave Garren and fullback Richard Yaun.

Fleckenstein and Tom Yaun, guard; Andy Kaveleski and John Whiffen, center; Robert Dibble, John Elliot and Tom Reed, quarterback; Geoffry Grund, Tom Lewis and Clayton Yaun, halfback and Donald Benton and Jack Luskin, fullback.

The first floor apartment of Michael Scott was heavily damaged. Smoke damage was reported in the second floor apartment of Victor White, owner of the residence.

Second Assault Charge Is Placed Against Winnie

Facing sentencing later today on a charge of assault third degree before Justice of Peace Arthur A. Reilly, Town of Ulster, James Arthur Winnie, 29, RFD 2, Kingston, was taken into custody Tuesday on a second degree assault charge.

The charges stemmed from a reported altercation at Morey Hill Road, near Rotue 28, Sunday night, according to Kingston State Police. Sergeant E. E. Winky said Winnie was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan, Town of Kingston, and released in custody of Seymour Werbalowsky, attorney. The case was adjourned until Friday, 10:30 a. m.

Charge Made by Woman

The second degree assault charge was made by Mrs. Hazel Johnston, of Sawkill, who accused Winnie of striking her in the mouth, troopers said. Mrs. Johnston was treated at Kingston Hospital, where six sutures were taken to close a laceration of the lip.

Troopers reported a car bumping and horn blowing incident on Morey Hill Road precipitated the altercation between Winnie and Bernard Johnston. Authorities said Mrs. Johnston was injured when she tried to stop the fight.

Scully Hit by Jack

According to investigators, Johnson got out of his car with a bumper jack and swung it at Winnie and James Scully, 50, of RFD 2, Kingston, while they were in their car. The jack reportedly struck Scully, knocking him unconscious. Scully was taken to Benedictine Hospital suffering lacerations of the face and lips. His condition today was described as fair.

Johnson was charged with assault second degree. He waived preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace Reilly and was committed to Ulster County jail pending grand jury action.

BCI Senior Investigator Frank B. Stainkamp and Troopers Richard Ryan, Norman Kilfoyle, Wayne Lawrence and James Conrad investigated Sunday's incident.

Plattekill Man Hurt, Flat Tire Is Blamed

A 30-year-old Plattekill man was injured at 10:45 p. m. Tuesday, when a flat tire caused him to lose control of his car and hit a tree off Mulberry Road, Ardonia, north of Route 44-55.

Highland State Police said Luisa M. Perez, of Plattekill, was driving south on Mulberry Road when a right front tire went flat. The car left the west side of the road and hit a tree.

Perez received a laceration of the nose.

Be Alert, Vets Urged

KIAMASHA LAKE, N. Y. (AP) —A federal official has cautioned New York State veterinarians to be alert for animal diseases never before encountered in the United States.

The official, Dr. Frank A. Todd of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, said imports, tourists and modern transportation contribute to the intercontinental spread of animal diseases.

Very little is known about how animal viruses spread, he told the veterinarians' 71st annual convention here Tuesday, and added:

"The practitioner may be the first to realize he is dealing with an unusual disease.

"Prompt reporting of a suspected foreign disease or an unusual condition in local livestock to the state veterinarian will provide an opportunity for necessary assistance in establishing a diagnosis with appropriate action."

Power Disrupted Over Wide Area Following Blast

A short circuit on a high voltage distribution line of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. near a construction job on Route 32 not far from the Thruway entrance at Saugerties, caused a 45-minute interruption of service in a sizeable area.

Joseph J. Benjamin, resident manager of Central Hudson, said the short circuit resulted when an employe of a private contractor set off a dynamite blast and a wire was thrown over the high voltage distribution line.

Benjamin said a sizeable area in the Kingston Highway area was without power for 45 minutes, until repairs were made by line crews of Central Hudson. It was reported that a new motel is being constructed on a site where the short circuit occurred.

Sections of West Saugerties, Quarryville, Malden, Blue Mountain and nearby areas were without service during the 45-minute interruption. The number of customers involved in the area was not available.

Lt. Gov. Choice

Busier Day Faces Binghamton Boss

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — John J. Burns, at 41, has found time to be mayor Binghamton, raise 11 children and attend Democratic conventions. He was nominated Tuesday night to be Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor.

The big, black-haired, jovial Burns is serving his second term as mayor of Binghamton, his native city, which has remained a Democratic isle in a Republican Southern Tier.

Prior to becoming mayor in 1958, Burns served in Binghamton as a deputy tax commissioner, executive assistant to the mayor and a deputy commissioner of public safety.

He was a sales representative for a motor-car agency and was engaged in other private business for five years following Coast Guard service during World War II.

During Burn's City Hall tenure, Binghamton has built water-filtration and sewage-treatment plants. Burns has been pushing an urban-renewal program in the city.

Dutchess Trio Is Given Terms, Fines In Gambling Case

Accused of gambling activities in the City of Poughkeepsie, two men and a woman on Tuesday pleaded guilty before City Judge Milton Haven, Poughkeepsie, and sentence were imposed.

James Fulton, 61, of 215 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, pleaded guilty to keeping a place for a game of policy, and was sentenced to 30 days in the Dutchess County Jail.

Hoke Robert, 54, of 36 North Perry Street, pleaded guilty to a similar charge and was fined $400. His wife, Vernilia, 24, pleaded guilty to possessing policy slips. She was fined $250.

The defendants were arrested July 3 when Detective Sergeant James Murphy led a raiding party at Fulton's shoe parlor and residence at 215 Main Street, and the Robert residence.

Record Deposit Gains In N. Y. Savings Banks

The 127 savings banks of New York State set a new record in August by gaining $121,011,000 in deposits.

This is the highest August deposit gain since 1925, when monthly reports were first issued, the Savings Banks Association of New York State annouced in releasing the figure.

The record August increase brought total deposits in the state's savings banks to a new high of $23,203,457,000 in 11,318,201 accounts. It compares with a gain of $44,412,000 in July and a deposit increase of $30,491,000 in August 1961.

George M. Penney, Association managing director, said that in the past 12 months the New York State savings banks have gained $1,230,243,000 in deposits. Total assets of the banks reached $26,161,218,000 during August.

New mortgage loans made during the month totaled 16,735, with a dollar value of $288,920,000 bringing the total number of real estate mortgages held by the New York State savings banks to 1,424,937. This represents an investment of $18,965,055,000, or 72.49 per cent of assets.

Mr. Penney pointed out that this investment constitutes almost two-thirds of all the mortgage loans held by all savings banks in the United States.

Telstar Topic For Lions Club

"How well informed is the public about space and satellites?" This was the question proposed to the Kingston Lions Club by William Rooney, guest speaker at their weekly luncheon meeting. Robert Schnitzer, program chairman, introduced Rooney who is a public relations official of the New York Telephone Company in Albany.

Rooney presented a talk on the recently launched project Telstar and what it will mean to the United States. Telstar was first launched from Cape Canaveral July 10.

The need for such a satellite was pointed out. At present, Rooney explained, telephone lines are run underground and number about 600. By 1980 it is estimated that due to a vast increase in communications some 10,000 lines will be needed. As the cost and repair of these lines would be impossibly high, the need for Telstar was apparent and thus was undertaken.

A model of the Telstar capsule was shown. It has a diameter of 34½ inches and weighs 170 pounds. It is sphencal in shape and is designed with 72 sides or edges needed for transmitting waves. Inside the shell is a 20-inch cube where all the electronic devices are housed. There are two circular antennas —one to receive and one for transmitting. Telstar is given an assigned radio frequency and although it will last for 100 years it only has a functional life of two years.

Rooney mentioned that a second Telstar capsule will be launched shortly. In future years, Rooney noted, people in the United States will be calling people in Europe as readily as they call their next door neighbor. Telstar also will allow for televising programs from country to country.

Though a bill and enactment of a law the ownership of Telestar satelites has been established. Rooney explained that ownership will be by stocks with 50 per cent being owned by International common carriers (large communication firms and corporations) and 50 per cent by private citizens. The voting stock will sell for $100 per share. The law also has provisions for establishing a Board of Directors to provide for equal power and also states that no one individual or corporation may own more than 10 per cent of either type of stock.

As the project is expensive, Rooney stressed the importance of the cooperation needed between private enterprise and good government.

In speaking of the economical value to the United States, he said it is naturally hard to estimate. But already he pointed out the launching of the Telestar satelite has enhanced U. S. prestige both home and abroad and will continue to do so. In evaluating Telestar, Rooney made this final comment in summary, "People can build concrete walls and iron curtains around cities and countries, but they can't build them in the air."

Utica Eatery Destroyed

YORKVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Fire today destroyed the Dolphin restaurant in this Utica suburb. Owner Frank L. Inserra of Utica estimated the loss at $80,000.

No one was known to have been in the three-story, wood and tile building, although there were five apartments on the upper floors and the fire swept through in mid-morning.

Kerhonkson Man Hurt, Auto Leaves Roadway

A Kerhonkson man suffered injuries today, when his car left Route 209 between Saxonville and Stone Ridge, and went down an embankment into rocks.

James R. Pengell', 87, of 5 Green Court, Kerhonkson, was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctors Ambulance Service. The extent of his injuries was not immediately determined. He was admitted to the hospital for X-ray and treatment.

No further details of the accident were available. The accident occurred on Route 209 in an area where construction work is in progress.

Davis Will Head GOP Plans for October 3 Dinner

Designation of Sherwood E. Davis as general chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee's fifth annual fund raising dinner, was announced today by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee.

Davis, local attorney, has headed the affair on two previous occasions, each of which has been an outstanding success.

Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller will be principal speaker at the dinner to be held at Granit Hotel, Accord, Wednesday, Oct. 3. There has already been a brisk sale of tickets and all indications are most favorabe for a successful event.

Chairman Davis said that he will announce committee chairmen for the event in the near future.

Driver Charged After 9W Crash

Two trucks and a passenger car were involved in a collision at 9:25 a. m. Tuesday on Rosoff Hill, Route 9W, Town of Marlboro, and one motorist was charged with driving to the left of passing lane.

The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace Curtis W. Northrip, Town of Marlboro. The charge was lodged against Rudolph Burry, RD 1, New Paltz, troopers at Highland reported.

The trucks were operated by Paul Visconti, 56, of Grand Street, Marlboro, and John G. Kitcher, 41, of 7 Flamingo Drive, Newburgh.

Highland troopers said the trucks wer traveling north with the vehicle driven by Kitcher overtaking the truck operated by Visconti, when Burry reportedly pulled out to pass the other vehicles and then attempted to return to the northbound travel lane. Troopers reported Burry's car struck the truck driven by Kitcher and that vehicle collided with the other truck.

Frightened to Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Window Washer John Hirowski, 63, apparently was frightened to death Tuesday when his safety belt broke, leaving him dangling by one strap and screaming for help below a sixth-floor window in Manhattan.

He hung suspended at least 10 minutes outside the West 54th Street apartment building before a tenant heard his screams and called police.

When officers got to the window 10 minutes later, Hirowski appeared to have stopped breathing.

He was pronounced dead of heart failure.

Young Scofflaw Jailed

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Those traffic tickets Johnny Geetah kept getting came back to haunt him.

Police said he had accumulated 41 tickets. They figure he owes the city $2,385.

Johnny received most of the tickets before his 17th birthday. As a juvenile, the court couldn't force him to pay. Last week he was 17 and the judge told him to pay up or go to jail.

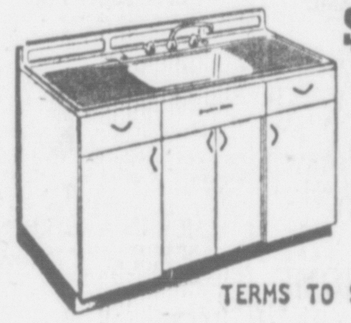

Johnny went to jail Tuesday. He'll get $3 credit for each day behind the bars.
